On First Anniversary

West Berliners Shout Hatred Of 'Wall' Amid Gas

BERLIN (AP) — Border guards fought a fierce tear gas battle today as massed West Berliners screamed their hatred of the red wall on its first anniversary.

The battle erupted in the Wilhelmstrasse, opposite the former Nazi air ministry. It is now the seat of several East German government ministries.

East German police shot a stream of water from a water cannon at West Berlin youths carrying a wooden cross along the wall.

Enraged West Berliners then hurled stones at the water cannon.

Eastern guards then tossed tear gas grenades into the thickly massed crowd.

West police immediately threw about 150 tear gas grenades over the wall. They fell all around two water cannon, which were enveloped in a thick cloud of gas and withdrew about 30 yards. The choking crews had to get out for fresh air.

Western police were soaking wet, as were the youths carrying the cross.

A company of 100 West riot police was rushed to the scene. There were about 80 Eastern police—Vopos—massed on the other side of the wall.

East Berliners tried to join in the demonstration. But Communist police kept them back. About 100 persons were seen being pushed back in the Unter den Linden and Wilhelmstrasse, in East Berlin.

Windows in buildings on the east side of the border were flung open as persons inside listened to the Western outcries of anger but Communist officials quickly shut the windows.

The din along the wall was tremendous.

The Communists brought up loudspeakers blaring martial music in an attempt to drown out the shouts from the West.

Western police said they heard the rumble of tanks in East Berlin and saw truckloads of steel-helmeted troops being deployed on streets leading to the wall.

The Western reinforcements were ordered up after thousands of booing, shouting persons massed along the wall.

At least 15,000 West Berliners were at various points on the wall, witnesses estimated.

Traffic and work had halted for three minutes in West Berlin to mark the anniversary.

What was planned by authorities as a quiet observance of the anniversary erupted into a noisy demonstration. At the Friedrichstrasse, West Berlin motorists blew their horns for 50 minutes.

People streamed to the wall. They shook their fists, shouted in chorus and waved to any East Berliners they could see.

They booed some Soviet soldiers in a Red army car caught in the stalled traffic.

The crowd hurled insults at four Soviet staff cars driving to Fried-

President's Tax Views Are Waited

Kennedy To Speak On Radio And TV Beginning At 7

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy may offer an advance peek at his plans for a 1963 tax cut when he speaks to the nation tonight on taxes and the lagging economy.

Most observers in and out of government were convinced he would reject suggestions that a quick tax cut offers the best chance of averting any early recession.

Kennedy was likely to call attention in his 7 p.m. EDT television-radio address to his stalled requests for stand-by authority to cut taxes and launch a public works program in the event of a recession. If Congress should approve these proposals, the door would be kept open for a possible tax cut later this year.

Strong recommendations for quick tax reductions have come from such diverse quarters as the AFL-CIO and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Those who were convinced that Kennedy would turn down the appeals said that for one thing, there is formidable congressional opposition to the idea of considering a deficit-expanding tax cut in the waning weeks of an election year session.

Also, major economic indicators surveyed by Kennedy and key advisers at a White House conference Friday showed a moderate business pickup in July.

Perhaps equally important, the Treasury is fearful that a 1962 tax cut would undermine administration efforts to achieve a major reform of tax laws next year.

It was learned that work on the 1963 reform bill was far enough advanced to permit disclosure of certain key details. Several officials said it seemed logical that Kennedy would seize this opportunity.

To date, Kennedy merely has said he will seek a top-to-bottom cut in individual and corporate tax rates, effective next Jan. 1. He also has promised the resulting revenue loss would be only partly offset by elimination of certain special tax benefits now available to limited numbers of taxpayers.

While Kennedy could point tonight to record July prosperity, in terms of production and income, he has made no secret of his dissatisfaction with recent economic growth.

It seemed likely that Kennedy would urge favorable action on a bill to encourage business investment in more modern equipment, by offering them tax credits. The Treasury has put great stock in this measure, coupled with the recent reform of tax depreciation guide lines, as a means of promoting growth.

Orbit Shows Soviet Has Moon Lead

Moscow Says Pair Sleep, Dine And Are Feeling 'Fine'

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Soviet astronauts wheeled around the earth in tandem today, one entering his third day in space and the other his second in a historic feat putting the Russians ahead in the race to the moon.

Already they had passed the point where they would have been in position to land and that meant almost certainly they would go on through at least another night and morning.

Aboard Vostok III, Maj. Andrian Nikolayev, 32, had made 35 circuits of the earth by 4 p.m. Moscow time, since his blastoff Saturday morning, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Aboard Vostok IV, Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich, 31, had made 19 circuits since his launching Sunday morning. He thus also had surpassed the 17-orbit flight of Maj. Gherman S. Titov a year ago.

The two exchanged radio greetings this morning after awakening and eating breakfast, but it was not clear how close their space ships were together. Tass reported they were near enough Sunday to see each other's ships.

Trackers in Japan had put the distance between them as about 75 miles Sunday. But the Sohio Research Center in Cleveland, Ohio, said they later had moved 385 miles apart.

At noon, every correspondent in Moscow braced for news that the pilots had begun their descent to Soviet soil. But rumors of a landing proved wrong. One Soviet source declared: "They are not coming down today."

Premier Khrushchev messaged them: "I again congratulate you and embrace you. I wish you successful fulfillment of the program of the flight, and happy landing."

They were shown again on television today. Lying back in their chairs, occasionally rising to a half sitting position to work better with a log book or to keep it from shielding their faces from the television viewer in the cabin of the ship. Gestures and movements were relatively limited.

Tass reported that millions of televiewers saw Popovich rise from his seat, look through the porthole, smile and drink something, then take his seat again.

Both had traveled far enough to reach the moon and back but both reported they felt fine, instruments were functioning perfectly, and cabin temperature and other conditions normal, Tass reported.

A midday bulletin said: "The necessary medical and hygienic conditions in the cabins of the cosmonauts are fully maintained."

The cosmonauts' morning hours were devoted to breakfast, setting-up exercises, and then scientific observations, physiological and vestibular (ear) tests and psychological tests, it said.

Nikolayev had far surpassed the 17-orbit record set by Soviet Maj. Gherman Titov a year earlier in Vostok II.

The double flight marked a fantastic feat of Soviet rocketry that the United States does not hope to match until at least next year. The ability to send up a second space ship 24 hours after the first one had gone up and bring it into orbit in the vicinity of the first ship marked an im-

Crash In Fog Hurts 4 Near Yellow Creek

Car Strikes Garage Following Collision On Shrouded Road

Three members of a Wellsville family and a Hammondsville man were injured in the crash of a car and a pickup truck in heavy fog Sunday morning on Route 213, two miles south of Yellow Creek.

The drivers were Mark S. Abrams, 53, of 810 Main St., Wellsville, a Review printer, and William H. Burton, 43, operator of a service station in Hammondsville.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said Abrams' 1953 model sedan was struck in the rear by a 1961 model pickup driven by Burton.

The force of the impact bumped Abrams' car into a garage of William H. Iddings of Irondale R. D. 1, causing considerable damage to the building, the patrol said.

Abrams, his wife, and a sister were en route to services at the Catholic Mission in Hammondsville, the family said. The crash happened at 9:40.

Abrams is in "fair" condition at City Hospital with a lacerated scalp, lacerations of both hands and a possible back injury. His wife, Mrs. Marjorie Abrams, 43, is in "good" condition with a possible back injury and lacerations of the feet and legs.

A sister, Marion Abrams, 59, of San Antonio, Tex., who is visiting the Abrams family, is in "fairly good" condition with possible chest and back injuries.

Burton received abrasions of the left elbow and right knee, according to the patrol. Officers said Burton was cited on a charge of failure to halt in the assured clear distance and is scheduled for a hearing before Jefferson County Judge Helen M. Huntsman in Toronto.

Hoffa, 'Week' Get Attention Of AFL-CIO

Executive Council Launches Annual Summer Meeting

CHICAGO (AP)—The traditional 40-hour work week and James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, appear likely to be high on the agenda at today's opening session of the AFL-CIO Executive Council's summer meeting.

A number of officials in the big labor federation believe the time has come to cut both down in size.

Labor leaders, including the AFL-CIO president, George Meany, usually have seen shortening the work week as the answer to growing unemployment.

The 26 union vice presidents making up the council are expected to take some action regarding the Teamsters Union.

The union, with 1,500,000 members, was expelled from the AFL-CIO in 1957 amidst charges of corruption. The AFL-CIO has more than 14 million members.

The Teamsters have come under renewed fire from AFL-CIO officials since last week's trial of 21 leaders of the affiliated Communications Workers of America.

All 21 were convicted in a union trial of having conspired to deliver 18,000 CWA members into the hands of Hoffa's union. Nineteen CWA leaders were expelled from the union and two were suspended for three years.

Joseph A. Beirne, CWA president, previously had asked the Executive Council to set up an organization to try and get some Teamsters members back in the AFL-CIO fold.

Any drive for a shorter work week apparently would get no help from the Kennedy administration. President Kennedy has said repeatedly that he would propose no legislation to change the standard 40-hour week. Two of his top aides, Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg and Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges, both have warned labor not to seek a shorter work week through legislation.

Employers also have shown they prefer to pay overtime to present workers rather than pay costly fringe benefits to new workers.

15 Pay Fines After July 16 Hancock Raid

Penalties Totaling $1,300 Meted Out In Weirton Court

Fifteen persons cited by West Virginia State Police in mass raids on Hancock County taverns July 16 were fined a total of $1,300 on gaming and liquor charges at hearings Saturday before Squire Thomas Bellanco of Weirton.

Officers made 30 arrests at 15 taverns located outside municipal boundaries. Six persons have been bound to the Grand Jury on the charges, six were fined $800 July 16 and two were fined $250 at hearings July 24. One forfeited a $56 bond.

Among those fined Saturday was Phyllis J. Glover of Club Sands near Weirton. Charged with possession of a gaming device, she was bound over to the Grand Jury and also was fined $50 and costs for sale of liquor. She informed the squire she will appeal the penalty.

Others who were fined, the taverns where they were arrested and the charges, are:

Burglar Gets $120, Liquor

Ladder Aids Entry Of Market Tavern

Thieves made off with nearly $120 in cash and 12 fifths of liquor from the Town Tavern, 413 Market St., after using a ladder to gain entrance, police were advised this morning.

Helen Yost, owner, told officers the thieves took $15 from the cash register, $80 to $90 from a cigarette machine and $10 to $15 from a juke box and bowling machine.

They also fled with two fifths of Scotch and 10 fifths of whiskey, she said.

Police said the thieves used a ladder and then pried through a screen and bars on a rear window to gain entrance to the storeroom.

The burglars then broke a lock to enter the barroom, they added.

The entry was timed between 2 a.m. Sunday and 8 this morning.

Probe Seeks Cause

$50,000 Damage Set In Plant Fire

WASHINGTONVILLE — The charred interior of the W. M. Co., plant, burned out in a $50,000 blaze Sunday afternoon, was checked today by authorities in an effort to determine the cause of the fire.

Firemen from Greenford, Leetonia and Columbiana assisted village firemen in quelling the blaze, which broke out about 4 p. m., sending clouds of smoke into the sky and attracting a sizable crowd.

The small machine shop and pulley manufacturing concern is owned by William Radler, who only last week was named mayor, succeeding the late Donald Vignon, who died last Monday of cancer.

The fire began in the paint room, a recent addition to the plant, but officials late yesterday had not determined the actual cause.

The alarm first was turned in by Harold Rohrer of Main St. The loss is covered by insurance, a spokesman said.

Gary Hicks Chosen Head Of Ohio's DeMolay Order

Gary Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hicks of S. Surrey Rd., Fisher Park, was elected Ohio master councilor at the 37th annual state DeMolay conclave Sunday at Cleveland. Over 1,500 Demolays and Masonic advisors attended.

Hicks is a past master councilor of Harding Chapter, a representative DeMolay, a chevalier, and a holder of the blue honor key. He has served the Ohio State DeMolay Council in the past as state senior and junior councilor. A past sixth district chairman, he will be a sophomore at Bowling Green University this fall.

The voting delegation from the local chapter consisted of Roger Hicks, senior councilor; David Hoffman, junior councilor; David Conley, Gary Mackey and the new state master councilor, all past master councilors.

John Geren was the chapter representative to the state conclave. Others attending included Thomas Morris, William Vale, Keith Allison, Thomas Zook and Keith Locke.

Homer D. Hoffman, district deputy, represented the sixth district in the state advisory council meetings.

DeMolay Dads Irvin J. Vorndran and H. Judson English, along with Hoffman, provided the transportation for the chapter delegation.

The conclave followed a western theme. At the opening state council meeting Friday, Chester Hodges of Cincinnati, a DeMolay Dad and the executive officer in Ohio, was presented a cowboy hat and a marshal's badge from the state officers when he was sworn in by Hicks as the conclave marshal.

Soviet Given Space Salute By Kennedy

NASA Chiefs Adopt Wait-And-See View Of Russians' Feat

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has congratulated the Soviet Union on its latest space accomplishment, but American space officials adopted a wait-and-see attitude and withheld official comment.

While relaxing over the weekend at Boothbay Harbor, Maine, Kennedy said in a statement: "I congratulate the Soviet Union on this exceptional technical feat and salute the courage of her two new astronauts. The American people, I know, wish them a safe return."

In Washington, a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said: "Until we know more about the Soviet mission we can't comment intelligently about it."

American televiewers saw films of the two Soviet cosmonauts orbiting the earth in twin spaceships. The films were flown to New York after they were recorded in London from Eurovision broadcasts picked up from Moscow. ABC, CBS and NBC then transmitted them Sunday across their television networks.

American radio listeners also heard recordings of the voices of cosmonauts Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich reporting back from their orbital flight.

Although U.S. space officials would not be quoted by name, it was clear that America once again was behind in the space race for the moon. Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, who circled the earth three times last May, put it this way: "We're behind and trying our best to catch up."

Earlier, the Soviet news agency Tass reported that a message from Carpenter, received in Moscow via The Associated Press, had been relayed to spaceman Nikolayev while he was in orbit.

The next U.S. space step is scheduled for late next month, when astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. is launched on a planned six-orbit flight of about nine hours.

Three members of a Wellsville family and a Hammondsville man were injured in the crash of a car and a pickup truck in heavy fog Sunday morning on Route 213, two miles south of Yellow Creek.

15 Pay Fines After July 16 Hancock Raid

Penalties Totaling $1,300 Meted Out In Weirton Court

Fifteen persons cited by West Virginia State Police in mass raids on Hancock County taverns July 16 were fined a total of $1,300 on gaming and liquor charges at hearings Saturday before Squire Thomas Bellanco of Weirton.

Officers made 30 arrests at 15 taverns located outside municipal boundaries. Six persons have been bound to the Grand Jury on the charges, six were fined $800 July 16 and two were fined $250 at hearings July 24. One forfeited a $56 bond.

Among those fined Saturday was Phyllis J. Glover of Club Sands near Weirton. Charged with possession of a gaming device, she was bound over to the Grand Jury and also was fined $50 and costs for sale of liquor. She informed the squire she will appeal the penalty.

Others who were fined, the taverns where they were arrested and the charges, are:

Burglar Gets $120, Liquor

Ladder Aids Entry Of Market Tavern

Thieves made off with nearly $120 in cash and 12 fifths of liquor from the Town Tavern, 413 Market St., after using a ladder to gain entrance, police were advised this morning.

Helen Yost, owner, told officers the thieves took $15 from the cash register, $80 to $90 from a cigarette machine and $10 to $15 from a juke box and bowling machine.

They also fled with two fifths of Scotch and 10 fifths of whiskey, she said.

Police said the thieves used a ladder and then pried through a screen and bars on a rear window to gain entrance to the storeroom.

The burglars then broke a lock to enter the barroom, they added.

The entry was timed between 2 a.m. Sunday and 8 this morning.

$50,000 Damage Set In Plant Fire

WASHINGTONVILLE — The charred interior of the W. M. Co., plant, burned out in a $50,000 blaze Sunday afternoon, was checked today by authorities in an effort to determine the cause of the fire.

Firemen from Greenford, Leetonia and Columbiana assisted village firemen in quelling the blaze, which broke out about 4 p. m., sending clouds of smoke into the sky and attracting a sizable crowd.

The small machine shop and pulley manufacturing concern is owned by William Radler, who only last week was named mayor, succeeding the late Donald Vignon, who died last Monday of cancer.

The fire began in the paint room, a recent addition to the plant, but officials late yesterday had not determined the actual cause.

The alarm first was turned in by Harold Rohrer of Main St. The loss is covered by insurance, a spokesman said.

Gary Hicks Chosen Head Of Ohio's DeMolay Order

Gary Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hicks of S. Surrey Rd., Fisher Park, was elected Ohio master councilor at the 37th annual state DeMolay conclave Sunday at Cleveland. Over 1,500 Demolays and Masonic advisors attended.

Hicks is a past master councilor of Harding Chapter, a representative DeMolay, a chevalier, and a holder of the blue honor key. He has served the Ohio State DeMolay Council in the past as state senior and junior councilor. A past sixth district chairman, he will be a sophomore at Bowling Green University this fall.

The voting delegation from the local chapter consisted of Roger Hicks, senior councilor; David Hoffman, junior councilor; David Conley, Gary Mackey and the new state master councilor, all past master councilors.

John Geren was the chapter representative to the state conclave. Others attending included Thomas Morris, William Vale, Keith Allison, Thomas Zook and Keith Locke.

Homer D. Hoffman, district deputy, represented the sixth district in the state advisory council meetings.

DeMolay Dads Irvin J. Vorndran and H. Judson English, along with Hoffman, provided the transportation for the chapter delegation.

The conclave followed a western theme. At the opening state council meeting Friday, Chester Hodges of Cincinnati, a DeMolay Dad and the executive officer in Ohio, was presented a cowboy hat and a marshal's badge from the state officers when he was sworn in by Hicks as the conclave marshal.

Soviet Given Space Salute By Kennedy

NASA Chiefs Adopt Wait-And-See View Of Russians' Feat

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has congratulated the Soviet Union on its latest space accomplishment, but American space officials adopted a wait-and-see attitude and withheld official comment.

While relaxing over the weekend at Boothbay Harbor, Maine, Kennedy said in a statement: "I congratulate the Soviet Union on this exceptional technical feat and salute the courage of her two new astronauts. The American people, I know, wish them a safe return."

In Washington, a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said: "Until we know more about the Soviet mission we can't comment intelligently about it."

American televiewers saw films of the two Soviet cosmonauts orbiting the earth in twin spaceships. The films were flown to New York after they were recorded in London from Eurovision broadcasts picked up from Moscow. ABC, CBS and NBC then transmitted them Sunday across their television networks.

American radio listeners also heard recordings of the voices of cosmonauts Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich reporting back from their orbital flight.

Although U.S. space officials would not be quoted by name, it was clear that America once again was behind in the space race for the moon. Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, who circled the earth three times last May, put it this way: "We're behind and trying our best to catch up."

Earlier, the Soviet news agency Tass reported that a message from Carpenter, received in Moscow via The Associated Press, had been relayed to spaceman Nikolayev while he was in orbit.

The next U.S. space step is scheduled for late next month, when astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. is launched on a planned six-orbit flight of about nine hours.

Producers Plan Battle Over Oils And Animal Fats

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new fight, rivaling that waged for years between butter and margarine, is developing between animal fats and vegetable oils. The outcome could have significant effects on farm production patterns.

At the center of this rising conflict is the question of whether the animal or vegetable fats have a relation to levels of cholesterol in the blood—a substance suspected by some medical authorities of having an influence on the hardening of the arteries associated with heart troubles.

Producers of animal fats—particularly dairy fats consumed in the form of butter and cream as well as in whole milk and other dairy products — are protesting claims of distributors of some vegetable oils that the latter products are more healthful than the animal fats.

The latest flareup between the two classes of food fats was touched off by a statement of the American Medical Association, offering guidance to physicians for experimenting with fats in diets of patients with heart and associated diseases. The statement has been interpreted by some as an endorsement of vegetable fats over animal fats.

Judge Named For Appeals

CHARLESTON (AP) — It will be judge against judge in the November election for a seat on the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals.

The Democrats, meeting in a state convention Saturday, selected Judge Fred H. Caplan, 47-year-old Clarksburg native, as their choice to oppose veteran Circuit Judge Max DeBerry of Harrisville, nominated by the Republicans at a similar convention last Aug. 4.

At stake will be the six years left of the 12-year term of the late Judge Leslie F. Given who died May 11. Caplan at present is filling the vacancy on the five-member court under an interim appointment by Gov. Barron.

Caplan's nomination was not unexpected. If there was any opposition, it simply didn't show up at the Charleston Civic Center gathering. He was nominated by acclamation.

The Democrats had some of their big guns on hand for the meeting of the 1,130 convention delegates to fire them up for the off-year election.

Keynote speaker was Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey, who said completion of the Kennedy administration program won't be accomplished without a bitter fight against what he termed "obstructionist Republicans and their allies among the powerful lobbies which seek to put money ahead of people in our national policy".

Gov. Barron and former State Senate President Ralph J. Bean of Moorefield were other speakers.

Bean said the number of jobless now in West Virginia is down to less than 60,000, compared with 96,000 unemployed when Barron succeeded Republican Gov. Cecil H. Underwood 19 months ago.

Caplan has been in state government for the past dozen years.

He was elected to the House of Delegates from Harrison County in 1948 and re-elected in 1950 to a two-year term. He was named assistant attorney general in 1953 by Atty. Gen. John Fox and served in the same capacity when Barron was the state's chief legal officer. Prior to his appointment as temporary judge, Caplan served for a year on the Public Service Commission.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Quite often older houses have a built-in ironing board . . . which always seems to be too close to the stove and opens on the wrong side, where a right-handed woman cannot possibly get behind it to iron.

I removed my old built-in ironing board and filled the little cabinet completely with shelves! And believe it, Heloise, each shelf was the right fit for all of my condiment bottles.

This wonderful full-length cabinet hides all those bottles that usually sit out on open shelves in our kitchen and collect so much dust!

Any woman who happens to have one of these old built-in ironing boards in her home should try this. I built my own shelves with very little effort!

I am past 60 and find this is the best help in my house. Women have no idea how convenient it is to open a condiment cabinet this size and find the condiments all in one place.

I just figured I used my ironing board once a week and I use these shelves three times a day!

Borrow Back!

DEAR HELOISE: I have the answer to a problem that is the bain of every housewife in existence—borrowing!

When your neighbor borrows three eggs, or a cup of coffee or your vacuum cleaner — and you don't get it back — the only answer is to wait three days and borrow the same thing right back again!

NON-BORROWER

Takes No Chances

DEAR HELOISE: If I want to take meat out of the freezer in the morning, I write myself a note and put it in my cereal dish so I can see it at breakfast time . . . othersise, I forget it!

Bus tokens, the kind with holes in them, are easily carried if you put them on a big safety pin. It can be pinned to the lining of your purse so the tokens are handy and in sight when you need them.

Mildew Treatment

DEAR HELOISE: To take mildew out of leather, rub pure vaseline into it until the vaseline is quite absorbed. Polish carefully with a chamois.

I clean hearth tiles and slate with a cream made of soft soap and skimmed milk. This really looks good on dark green slate.

As I told this to my husband he got up from his chair and made some of the mixture. He polished our slate entry that goes over in front of the fireplace. This was at 10 p.m. Anyway, the slate looks just as though it had been waxed!

Ike Plays Good Golf, But Makes Mistake On Ball

SUNNINGDALE, England (AP) —Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower executed some beautiful golf shots here today—but pulled a boner on the 18th hole by mistakenly playing his partner's ball.

His partner was Sir James Gault, an old friend and former military aide.

Ike never knew the difference.

The former president teamed up with Sir James against U.S. Adm. H. P. Smith and Freeman Gosden, of the old Amos and Andy American radio team.

"I'm afraid we've all got bad scores," said Gosden, "but the general really played some marvelous shots."

On this course, the west 18 of the Wentworth Golf Club, a bad score is understandable. It is 6,936 yards long, with numerous traps and plenty of woods. Golfing champion Arnold Palmer once described it as one of the toughest anywhere.

Producers Plan Battle Over Oils And Animal Fats

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new fight, rivaling that waged for years between butter and margarine, is developing between animal fats and vegetable oils. The outcome could have significant effects on farm production patterns.

At the center of this rising conflict is the question of whether the animal or vegetable fats have a relation to levels of cholesterol in the blood—a substance suspected by some medical authorities of having an influence on the hardening of the arteries associated with heart troubles.

Producers of animal fats—particularly dairy fats consumed in the form of butter and cream as well as in whole milk and other dairy products — are protesting claims of distributors of some vegetable oils that the latter products are more healthful than the animal fats.

The latest flareup between the two classes of food fats was touched off by a statement of the American Medical Association, offering guidance to physicians for experimenting with fats in diets of patients with heart and associated diseases. The statement has been interpreted by some as an endorsement of vegetable fats over animal fats.

Judge Named For Appeals

CHARLESTON (AP) — It will be judge against judge in the November election for a seat on the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals.

The Democrats, meeting in a state convention Saturday, selected Judge Fred H. Caplan, 47-year-old Clarksburg native, as their choice to oppose veteran Circuit Judge Max DeBerry of Harrisville, nominated by the Republicans at a similar convention last Aug. 4.

At stake will be the six years left of the 12-year term of the late Judge Leslie F. Given who died May 11. Caplan at present is filling the vacancy on the five-member court under an interim appointment by Gov. Barron.

Caplan's nomination was not unexpected. If there was any opposition, it simply didn't show up at the Charleston Civic Center gathering. He was nominated by acclamation.

The Democrats had some of their big guns on hand for the meeting of the 1,130 convention delegates to fire them up for the off-year election.

Keynote speaker was Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey, who said completion of the Kennedy administration program won't be accomplished without a bitter fight against what he termed "obstructionist Republicans and their allies among the powerful lobbies which seek to put money ahead of people in our national policy".

Gov. Barron and former State Senate President Ralph J. Bean of Moorefield were other speakers.

Bean said the number of jobless now in West Virginia is down to less than 60,000, compared with 96,000 unemployed when Barron succeeded Republican Gov. Cecil H. Underwood 19 months ago.

Caplan has been in state government for the past dozen years.

He was elected to the House of Delegates from Harrison County in 1948 and re-elected in 1950 to a two-year term. He was named assistant attorney general in 1953 by Atty. Gen. John Fox and served in the same capacity when Barron was the state's chief legal officer. Prior to his appointment as temporary judge, Caplan served for a year on the Public Service Commission.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Quite often older houses have a built-in ironing board . . . which always seems to be too close to the stove and opens on the wrong side, where a right-handed woman cannot possibly get behind it to iron.

I removed my old built-in ironing board and filled the little cabinet completely with shelves! And believe it, Heloise, each shelf was the right fit for all of my condiment bottles.

This wonderful full-length cabinet hides all those bottles that usually sit out on open shelves in our kitchen and collect so much dust!

Any woman who happens to have one of these old built-in ironing boards in her home should try this. I built my own shelves with very little effort!

I am past 60 and find this is the best help in my house. Women have no idea how convenient it is to open a condiment cabinet this size and find the condiments all in one place.

I just figured I used my ironing board once a week and I use these shelves three times a day!

Borrow Back!

DEAR HELOISE: I have the answer to a problem that is the bain of every housewife in existence—borrowing!

When your neighbor borrows three eggs, or a cup of coffee or your vacuum cleaner — and you don't get it back — the only answer is to wait three days and borrow the same thing right back again!

NON-BORROWER

Takes No Chances

DEAR HELOISE: If I want to take meat out of the freezer in the morning, I write myself a note and put it in my cereal dish so I can see it at breakfast time . . . othersise, I forget it!

Bus tokens, the kind with holes in them, are easily carried if you put them on a big safety pin. It can be pinned to the lining of your purse so the tokens are handy and in sight when you need them.

Mildew Treatment

DEAR HELOISE: To take mildew out of leather, rub pure vaseline into it until the vaseline is quite absorbed. Polish carefully with a chamois.

I clean hearth tiles and slate with a cream made of soft soap and skimmed milk. This really looks good on dark green slate.

As I told this to my husband he got up from his chair and made some of the mixture. He polished our slate entry that goes over in front of the fireplace. This was at 10 p.m. Anyway, the slate looks just as though it had been waxed!

Ike Plays Good Golf, But Makes Mistake On Ball

SUNNINGDALE, England (AP) —Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower executed some beautiful golf shots here today—but pulled a boner on the 18th hole by mistakenly playing his partner's ball.

His partner was Sir James Gault, an old friend and former military aide.

Ike never knew the difference.

The former president teamed up with Sir James against U.S. Adm. H. P. Smith and Freeman Gosden, of the old Amos and Andy American radio team.

"I'm afraid we've all got bad scores," said Gosden, "but the general really played some marvelous shots."

On this course, the west 18 of the Wentworth Golf Club, a bad score is understandable. It is 6,936 yards long, with numerous traps and plenty of woods. Golfing champion Arnold Palmer once described it as one of the toughest anywhere.

County Goes Easy On Herbicides

Two readers have complained within the last week against the use of herbicides along highways.

Charles O. Snyder, Columbiana County engineer, has issued a statement in which he points out that the County Department of Highways does not follow this practice, except around guardrails. In fairness to his office, the statement is presented below, in part:

"In Columbiana County, as well as the other 87 counties of the state of Ohio, by law three separate distinctions of highways have been established, namely, state, county and Township Highways, hereby three separate jurisdictions are involved. As county engineer, the jurisdiction of the county highway system becomes the responsibility of the county engineer in his respective county and in a like manner the various boards of township trustees of the county have jurisdiction over the township roads in their respective townships. In regard to the state highway system, the jurisdiction rests with the director of highways, Columbus, Ohio.

"In Columbiana County, the county system has yellow and black route markers erected along each route starting with route 400 and ending with 444.

"In so far as the use of herbicides being used along these routes, it has never been nor will be my policy to use herbicides other than around the guard rails which extend in an area approximately one foot wide around the posts as well as in between them. I heartily agree to use herbicides to the extent of the full width of right of way furnishes an unsightly condition and I do not condone it.

"Several times in the past year I have had salesmen call at my office wanting to sell me on the idea of the use of herbicides, but I advised them I did not care to use them other than heretofore explained, namely, around guardrails."

Columbus Next

There are a lot of proud 4-H youngsters in Columbiana County as the result of victories in the annual Selection Days competition.

Prizes were awarded in clothing, food and miscellaneous divisions. The various exhibits represented days and days of effort and were a credit to the clubs represented.

Next is the competition at the Ohio State Fair Aug. 24-Sept. 3. With last week's displays in mind, Columbiana County should be ably represented at Columbus.

Anything To Hide?

A Tough Decision

By James Marlow

Kennedy Could Get Mussed Up On Taxes

WASHINGTON

President Kennedy has two chances to get mussed up and one to look good in deciding whether an income tax cut is necessary now to give the economy a transfusion.

There is general belief in Washington the President in his nationwide broadcast tonight will decide against a cut at this time.

Any cut now would be based on the hope, and even that is in dispute, that people with more money to spend would spend enough of it to make the economy pick up and sail.

Since economics is not an exact science, neither the President nor his advisers can be positive what turn the economy will take before the end of the year.

All he can do is make an educated guess based on the July economic statistics, with the help of those around him. If the economy holds up well until 1963, without a tax cut, he will look good.

There are two ways in which he could suffer damage, no matter what he decides.

If he asked for a cut this late in Congress, with the members anxious to get home for the election campaigns, he might be ignored. There is some powerful Democratic opposition in Congress to a cut now.

To be ignored on this would be one more Kennedy defeat in a Congress run by Democrats at a time when he plans to stump the country, asking the voters to elect even more Democrats.

While such a defeat would be a reflection on his leadership, a no tax-cut decision now, if the economy took a dive before the end of 1962, could be interpreted as a reflection on his judgment.

One thing is sure: A cut now, meaning less revenue for the government, would put the nation deeper in the red. The very thought of this has caused some sturdy opposition to a 1962 reduction.

Once through this rocky year, without a cut or a bad slump, then in 1963 Kennedy could ask for both a tax cut and tax reforms. The reforms would provide revenue to make up for that lost through a cut.

The President is expected to talk about the economy in general but such a talk might have been more effective, and made tonight's unnecessary, if he had made it last spring at the time of the steel dispute.

Kennedy thought he had persuaded the steel industry and the Steelworkers Union to reach a settlement making a price increase unnecessary. Suddenly steel boosted prices. Kennedy got angry. Steel dropped the increase.

Then Kennedy's relations with business began to deteriorate.

A nationwide talk by the President then — on the state of the economy and why he wanted moderation by business and labor — might have cleared the air, encouraged business, and done the economy real good.

Instead, Kennedy let the criticism pile up. Eventually he brought businessmen to the White House for talks. What he did then he probably could have done better in a broadcast.

A Pair Of Familiar Names

Two Washington lawyers, who are a special breed in themselves, showed up to testify before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee against semi-private ownership of satellite communications last week.

These two were a special kind of a special kind, however. They were Benjamin V. Cohen and Joseph L. Rauh, names familiar to Americans whose memories run back to the first New Deal.

Both were distinguished members of the famous "hot dog" group, so called because their thinking had been influenced by the leader of all the "hot dogs" — Felix Frankfurter, then a law professor and later an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Cohen especially was to achieve national fame as the quiet member of the influential New Deal law-making team of Corcoran and Cohen, sometimes called the Gold Dust Twins, after a trademark on a product advertised as capable of doing "all the work." Corcoran—Thomas G.—also is a Washington lawyer these days.

In those days he and Cohen and Rauh and Tugwell and dozens of others were government lawyers. Their role was to draw pay for acting as "counselors" in various departments while actually spending all their time trying to spur creeping socialism into a gallop. One of Cohen's strokes of genius was the Tennessee Valley Authority—a distinguished stroke of spurring.

Testimony on complex issues sometimes is hard to understand. But there are times when the quickest way to understand the testimony is to identify the witness. It is not surprising that Rauh and Cohen were against semi-private ownership of satellite communications. As New Dealers they were not known to favor private ownership of anything that possibly could be captured alive by public ownership; i.e., politicians.

Russians Lack Truth About U.S.

By Felix R. McKnight

Executive Editor,
Dallas Times-Herald

DALLAS—

The Soviet Union I saw is a wasteland of suspicion — simply because it has never been told the truth about the United States of America.

It is buried in doubt and distrust, thoroughly propagandized to view us as greedy war profiteers unconcerned about peace and the rights of man.

The Russian reads only what they want him to read and he does what he is told to do.

Only a few hours after our group of editors left an old DC3 type plane in the central Asian area of Samarkand, clutching Rosary beads and saying Methodist prayers because of a misbehaving right engine, it fell in the wilderness near Tashkent.

Sixteen were killed—one American from Detroit survived. But not a single word was printed in the newspapers. We learned of it through the American Embassy four days later.

Russians had not even been told about Telstar, the magnificent American achievement in international communications satellites, when I left the Soviet Union—although we were constantly needled about joining the Soviets in "Atoms for Peace."

The Soviet Union is a massive conglomeration of incredible contrast. It is vital and progressive in the impressive fields of science and technology—but it is pathetically primitive in the area of living.

No longer is there visible terror in the Soviet Union. Khrushchev deadened the fear of the midnight knock from the NKVD.

Nikita Khrushchev is wily, cunning, shrewd, tough, able — and determined. He stands 5 feet, 5 inches and a disproportionately small head sits atop a bulky body.

But he also stands tall and firm as premier of the U.S.S.R. and is likely to remain there for some time.

Now he has the people with him.

He has improved their lot tremendously in recent years through housing and the general elevation of living standards.

Master politician who plays a tough game of international politics, Khrushchev acts like a man who doesn't want war. But not for one minute does it mean that he will abandon the pressures that have kept the world off-balance.

The big goal is still there — world domination.

The man is wildly jealous of the United States and he will go to the limit to reach our levels. He spoke of it in his conference with us. From what I saw, he will never make it. The know-how just isn't there on too many things. The thinking, particularly on agriculture, is primitive and archaic.

Khrushchev is pushing, threatening, and goading to get their sagging agricultural program into some semblance of orderly production.

"What interests us most in America?" the premier asked in his July 13 conference with us. "It is organization of farm production. In this field you have a great experience worthy of being studied. And the organization of agricultural work in the United States is better than in the Soviet Union. You have a better range of machinery, especially for stock farming."

But, of course, he added that "we will surpass you."

The Soviet Union, its eyes riveted on youth and the future, is bringing along the new generation in the country with tender hands. It lavishes the utmost, from kindergarten through college, on the pliable young.

In all of the Soviet Union, there are 739 higher educational institutions—and the lights burn long on the six-hour day, six-day week schedule. One of the most impressive sights in the Soviet Union is the University of Moscow.

Over the 15 republics of the Soviet Union there is a new skyline — thousands upon thousands of apartment houses.

It is the Russians' desperate drive to solve their gravest problem, housing.

If the goal is achieved 22 million apartments will be occupied by the end of 1965, conclusion of the current seven-year plan.

But construction in the main is appallingly bad and crude. Maintenance of the hastily built apartments and buildings is even worse. It is practically nil.

Mass transportation in the Soviet Union is skillfully handled, with equipment that outshines that of many American cities.

It is a fortunate man, indeed, who owns an automobile in the Soviet Union. Consequently, the burden falls on subways, motor-driven and electric buses, electric street cars, superb railroads and the one and only state-owned airline, Aeroflot.

Ninety-nine per cent of the Soviets rely on public transportation —and they get the best the state can offer.

What is the conclusion to be drawn after seeing, first hand, the fountain of communism in the Soviet Union?

Crises, tensions, and struggles for the minds of uncommitted peoples will be the world's sad lot for some time to come.

War? No signs of it — but the threat of it to plague mankind, perhaps interminably.

Communism, despite platitudes of "peaceful coexistence," plans faithfully to follow its original course—domination of the world.

Bogus Conservatives

By Raymond Moley

A little group, in which Sen. Wayne Morse is the most wordy, is creating great embarrassment for its party and its president by opposition to the communications satellite bill.

Whether they win or lose, we may be sure that in the campaign to come these senators will be out there shouting meal-mouthed hosannas for their "great president" and the liberal Democratic party. When the chips are down, they will support their party. They have nowhere else to go, if they expect to stay in official life.

That sort of conformity is not found in certain individuals organizing to defeat Nixon in California and Rockefeller and Javits in New York.

In California, Nixon emerged successfully from a primary fight. But his opponents in that primary have now pledged themselves to support their party and its candidates.

However, a group in Sacramento, which is a branch of a party called Conservatives of America, with headquarters in New Orleans, will attempt to destroy Nixon by supporting and voting for Gov. Brown.

IN NEW YORK, a Conservative party has selected candidates to help defeat Rockefeller and Javits and elect certain Democratic candidates who have not yet been chosen.

In California these alleged conservatives do not like Brown or agree with what he stands for. Their purpose is weaken the Republican party and destroy its chosen leader, Richard Nixon.

In New York they ignore the fact that Rockefeller has been a competent and prudent governor and a professed Republican. Javits' voting record is more liberal than that of the majority of his party, but a study of 115 roll calls shows that his record is more conservative than that of 49 Democratic senators.

It has been a habit of those who write for the public prints to call these dissidents and destroyers in California and New York "conservative extremists." I don't mind their being called extremists. But I resent their being called conservative.

During the past three years, during which we have heard so much about these extremists, I have reviewed the history and policies of conservatism from Burke to the present—its mood, convictions, and methods. I have formulated the following definition of a conservative:

THE CONSERVATIVE puts his faith in free men, unfettered, so far as is practicable, by state authority. He recognizes the human fallibility of man, but he believes he must learn through his errors.

On the other hand, the "liberal" has no faith at all in the individual but believes he must be subjected to the tyranny of an official elite. The conservative abhors violence and extremism. He believes neither in sudden salvation nor in instant damnation.

His objective is progress by remedies for present problems achieved within the guidelines of successfully proved constitutional traditions. In achieving progress when confronted by a governing majority dedicated to "liberalism," he believes in keeping things from getting worse.

Finally, he recognizes that to win a majority capable of reshaping national and state policies, he must work through the two-party system—an institution created in Anglo-American life by the great constitutionalists of the past. It is an institution which has been preserved in Britain and the United States while other nations in the Western World have been destroyed by their multiple-party misgovernment.

These alleged conservatives in California and New York do not conform to the foregoing definition. Their reactionary suicidal methods would, if successful, lead us down to the tragedy of the multiple-party nations of continental Europe.

They would destroy the very essence of conservative, moderate progress and deny free men the power to grow and to achieve the general welfare through orderly change.

Summertime

We used to shove the lawnmower under the back porch when August came. There never was anything left to mow, except in a few places under the apple tree, and they were too littered with windfalls to be worth mowing.

We didn't bother to pull weeds any more either, because it had been so long since the last shower, which didn't amount to anything, that even pig ears were curled up and brittle. The only thing still growing was buckhorn, and the lawn mower was useless for buckhorn; it had to be sickled down.

Old-timers used to keep thermometers in the shade so they couldn't be charged with fibbing when they said it was "90 in the shade." They also kep ta wind harp hanging at the open end of the porch so its tinkling would give them a chance to talk about the "breeze" while they rocked and fanned and drank home-made root beer and listened to the locusts in the maple trees.

When things got real bad and the old-timers got to swapping recollections about other times when it may have been almost as hot or maybe a mite hotter, someone would suggest a freezerfull of sherbet and the next question would be ice because the ice wagon didn't come till 11 the next morning. Finally, it would be decided to take half the ice out of the refrigerator for the sherbet and not worry about keeping things cold because the milk already had started to turn, the watermelon would all be eaten by bedtime anyway and the butter already was rancid.

It was all right for young people to sleep wherever they thought they could be cool, even to spreading a blanket in the back yard if they thought they could stand the bugs. The best place was the glider on the front porch, if you didn't mind the squeak-squawk every time you took a breath.

Along about that time they began to sell attachments to give yourself a home-made shower bath in the bathtub—a rubber hose with a nozzle that worked all right if you could take a shower sitting down because shower rings and curtains were to come later and the water had to be kept inside the tub.

These contraptions helped to cool things off in the evening after a 9½ or 10-hour day working in August heat. In that era there was a premium on ways to cool off. People arranged temporary living quarters in the basements of their houses, and anyone who claimed to be anybody had a cottage at the "lake."

A great advance was made in underwear —the B.V.D. for men. Women still had to get along with "Porous Knit," which had little holes in it for the circulation of air.

Undertakers provided palm-leaf fans printed with their names and the nature of their services. These were very big in church.

The ice cream parlors always had those air beaters. that looked like airplane propellers. But in general, what with one thing and another, including clothing that was too heavy and an over-all lack of ventilation it used to be so doggoned hot in August, everybody died of the heat in August.

People crept around on the shady side of the street fanning themselves with their hats and asking breathlessly, "Is it hot enough for you?" Or they smiled wanly and said it would be nice if some of the heat could be bottled for next winter.

"It can't seem to rain somehow, can it?" they would ask, then saunter back home, still keeping in the shade, and hoist a bottle of whatever was cooling at the end of a stout cord in the cistern.

Come to think about, it, the weather used to be as sultry in August as it is now; maybe things are going from bad to worse.

Japan's Neurotic

By Jack Russell

TOKYO — Americans are more neurotic than Japanese and are likely to remain that way.

This is the opinion of Japanese psychiatrist Dr. Akira Omi, executive secretary of the Health Administration Study Council, in Tokyo.

Dr. Omi disclosed that in studies among Tokyo office and factory workers, he found that one per cent suffered from neurosis, one half of one per cent needed psychiatric treatment and 4 per cent of the urban population can be "assumed to have neurotic tendencies."

However, he said that statistics available here from America showed that 5 per cent of all Americans were neurotic, 2 per cent required psychiatric care and 20 per cent of the entire population had neurotic tendencies.

DR. OMI, who believes that neurosis is on the increase in Japan, said the cause was increasing "urbanization, industrialization and modernization."

He pointed to the Tokyo skylines: an ugly, conglomeration of tightly packed buildings with streets choked by noisy traffic in which 10 million people now live.

The Japanese doctor said the Japanese find this environment new and are "untrained" to cope with conflicts in this new way of life.

He said the definition of neurosis was the same everywhere: that it occurred when an individual's anxieties reached the point where his daily adjustment to life was disturbed.

Dr. Omi said that the problem of man against machine was a new and heavy burden. He said a Japanese still using the ancient abacus for mathematical calculations is liable to feel "isolated and alone" in an office with computers and adding machines.

WHEN ASKED why the Japanese rate of neurosis was lower than in the U.S., he said, "We are behind industrially compared to the United States."

Despite Japan's gigantic strides in industrial growth, Dr. Omi doubted if the Japanese would ever become as neurotic as Americans reportedly are.

Emphasizing the significance of infancy and childhood in emotional development, Dr. Omi said, "The upbringing of children is entirely different in the two nations."

French Boom Stalls

PARIS

The first signs are appearing that the "miraculous" French economic boom may be starting to slow down.

This follows the acknowledged wilting of another European economic "miracle" across the Rhine in West Germany.

These developments are taking place in two key European countries that have been repeatedly credited in recent years with possessing some special form of economic magic.

There is at least one clear meaning for the United States: less buoyant economies in France and Germany will buy fewer American goods.

In France, the initial signs of a decelerating boom are, at this time, largely statistical. They contrast with the country's look of unbridled prosperity.

Nevertheless, the latest cold figures appear to show the handwriting on the wall and the French financial press is beginning to take note of them.

"L'Information reported "a rather general slowdown in capital goods investment this year in both the public and private sectors."

"Les Echos" said: "To relaunch the economy, it will undoubtedly be necessary to speed up public investment, as private investment is showing some hesitation."

"La Vie Francaise" said reassuringly that France's economic expansion was coasting on a plateau, and that there are "no risks of a recession."

The Paris stock market so far has offered conflicting evidence. Although it proved the sturdiest of the European exchanges in the hectic aftermath of the May 28 debacle on Wall Street, the Paris Common Stock Index has lately shown little buoyancy. It is down about 11 per cent from this year's high, and is currently drifting at about that level.

Odd Facts

Today's average motorist seems not to be squeezing any more mileage out of his car during these inflation-ridden times than he did a generation ago. Average annual car mileage in the U.S. is about 10,000, and has been for the past 20 years — and the usual citizen who buys a new car drives it for only two or three years before turning it in for a new model.

Busiest canal in the world is the Sault Ste Marie Canal, connecting Lakes Superior and Michigan.

County Goes Easy On Herbicides

Two readers have complained within the last week against the use of herbicides along highways.

Charles O. Snyder, Columbiana County engineer, has issued a statement in which he points out that the County Department of Highways does not follow this practice, except around guardrails. In fairness to his office, the statement is presented below, in part:

"In Columbiana County, as well as the other 87 counties of the state of Ohio, by law three separate distinctions of highways have been established, namely, state, county and Township Highways, hereby three separate jurisdictions are involved. As county engineer, the jurisdiction of the county highway system becomes the responsibility of the county engineer in his respective county and in a like manner the various boards of township trustees of the county have jurisdiction over the township roads in their respective townships. In regard to the state highway system, the jurisdiction rests with the director of highways, Columbus, Ohio.

"In Columbiana County, the county system has yellow and black route markers erected along each route starting with route 400 and ending with 444.

"In so far as the use of herbicides being used along these routes, it has never been nor will be my policy to use herbicides other than around the guard rails which extend in an area approximately one foot wide around the posts as well as in between them. I heartily agree to use herbicides to the extent of the full width of right of way furnishes an unsightly condition and I do not condone it.

"Several times in the past year I have had salesmen call at my office wanting to sell me on the idea of the use of herbicides, but I advised them I did not care to use them other than heretofore explained, namely, around guardrails."

Columbus Next

There are a lot of proud 4-H youngsters in Columbiana County as the result of victories in the annual Selection Days competition.

Prizes were awarded in clothing, food and miscellaneous divisions. The various exhibits represented days and days of effort and were a credit to the clubs represented.

Next is the competition at the Ohio State Fair Aug. 24-Sept. 3. With last week's displays in mind, Columbiana County should be ably represented at Columbus.

A Pair Of Familiar Names

Two Washington lawyers, who are a special breed in themselves, showed up to testify before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee against semi-private ownership of satellite communications last week.

These two were a special kind of a special kind, however. They were Benjamin V. Cohen and Joseph L. Rauh, names familiar to Americans whose memories run back to the first New Deal.

Both were distinguished members of the famous "hot dog" group, so called because their thinking had been influenced by the leader of all the "hot dogs" — Felix Frankfurter, then a law professor and later an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Cohen especially was to achieve national fame as the quiet member of the influential New Deal law-making team of Corcoran and Cohen, sometimes called the Gold Dust Twins, after a trademark on a product advertised as capable of doing "all the work." Corcoran—Thomas G.—also is a Washington lawyer these days.

In those days he and Cohen and Rauh and Tugwell and dozens of others were government lawyers. Their role was to draw pay for acting as "counselors" in various departments while actually spending all their time trying to spur creeping socialism into a gallop. One of Cohen's strokes of genius was the Tennessee Valley Authority—a distinguished stroke of spurring.

Testimony on complex issues sometimes is hard to understand. But there are times when the quickest way to understand the testimony is to identify the witness. It is not surprising that Rauh and Cohen were against semi-private ownership of satellite communications. As New Dealers they were not known to favor private ownership of anything that possibly could be captured alive by public ownership; i.e., politicians.

Anything To Hide?

Russians Lack Truth About U.S.

By Felix R. McKnight

Executive Editor,
Dallas Times-Herald

DALLAS—

The Soviet Union I saw is a wasteland of suspicion — simply because it has never been told the truth about the United States of America.

It is buried in doubt and distrust, thoroughly propagandized to view us as greedy war profiteers unconcerned about peace and the rights of man.

The Russian reads only what they want him to read and he does what he is told to do.

Only a few hours after our group of editors left an old DC3 type plane in the central Asian area of Samarkand, clutching Rosary beads and saying Methodist prayers because of a misbehaving right engine, it fell in the wilderness near Tashkent.

Sixteen were killed—one American from Detroit survived. But not a single word was printed in the newspapers. We learned of it through the American Embassy four days later.

Russians had not even been told about Telstar, the magnificent American achievement in international communications satellites, when I left the Soviet Union—although we were constantly needled about joining the Soviets in "Atoms for Peace."

The Soviet Union is a massive conglomeration of incredible contrast. It is vital and progressive in the impressive fields of science and technology—but it is pathetically primitive in the area of living.

No longer is there visible terror in the Soviet Union. Khrushchev deadened the fear of the midnight knock from the NKVD.

Nikita Khrushchev is wily, cunning, shrewd, tough, able — and determined. He stands 5 feet, 5 inches and a disproportionately small head sits atop a bulky body.

But he also stands tall and firm as premier of the U.S.S.R. and is likely to remain there for some time.

Now he has the people with him.

He has improved their lot tremendously in recent years through housing and the general elevation of living standards.

Master politician who plays a tough game of international politics, Khrushchev acts like a man who doesn't want war. But not for one minute does it mean that he will abandon the pressures that have kept the world off-balance.

The big goal is still there — world domination.

The man is wildly jealous of the United States and he will go to the limit to reach our levels. He spoke of it in his conference with us. From what I saw, he will never make it. The know-how just isn't there on too many things. The thinking, particularly on agriculture, is primitive and archaic.

Khrushchev is pushing, threatening, and goading to get their sagging agricultural program into some semblance of orderly production.

"What interests us most in America?" the premier asked in his July 13 conference with us. "It is organization of farm production. In this field you have a great experience worthy of being studied. And the organization of agricultural work in the United States is better than in the Soviet Union. You have a better range of machinery, especially for stock farming."

But, of course, he added that "we will surpass you."

The Soviet Union, its eyes riveted on youth and the future, is bringing along the new generation in the country with tender hands. It lavishes the utmost, from kindergarten through college, on the pliable young.

In all of the Soviet Union, there are 739 higher educational institutions—and the lights burn long on the six-hour day, six-day week schedule. One of the most impressive sights in the Soviet Union is the University of Moscow.

Over the 15 republics of the Soviet Union there is a new skyline — thousands upon thousands of apartment houses.

It is the Russians' desperate drive to solve their gravest problem, housing.

If the goal is achieved 22 million apartments will be occupied by the end of 1965, conclusion of the current seven-year plan.

But construction in the main is appallingly bad and crude. Maintenance of the hastily built apartments and buildings is even worse. It is practically nil.

Mass transportation in the Soviet Union is skillfully handled, with equipment that outshines that of many American cities.

It is a fortunate man, indeed, who owns an automobile in the Soviet Union. Consequently, the burden falls on subways, motor-driven and electric buses, electric street cars, superb railroads and the one and only state-owned airline, Aeroflot.

Ninety-nine per cent of the Soviets rely on public transportation —and they get the best the state can offer.

What is the conclusion to be drawn after seeing, first hand, the fountain of communism in the Soviet Union?

Crises, tensions, and struggles for the minds of uncommitted peoples will be the world's sad lot for some time to come.

War? No signs of it — but the threat of it to plague mankind, perhaps interminably.

Japan's Neurotic

By Jack Russell

TOKYO — Americans are more neurotic than Japanese and are likely to remain that way.

This is the opinion of Japanese psychiatrist Dr. Akira Omi, executive secretary of the Health Administration Study Council, in Tokyo.

Dr. Omi disclosed that in studies among Tokyo office and factory workers, he found that one per cent suffered from neurosis, one half of one per cent needed psychiatric treatment and 4 per cent of the urban population can be "assumed to have neurotic tendencies."

However, he said that statistics available here from America showed that 5 per cent of all Americans were neurotic, 2 per cent required psychiatric care and 20 per cent of the entire population had neurotic tendencies.

DR. OMI, who believes that neurosis is on the increase in Japan, said the cause was increasing "urbanization, industrialization and modernization."

He pointed to the Tokyo skylines: an ugly, conglomeration of tightly packed buildings with streets choked by noisy traffic in which 10 million people now live.

The Japanese doctor said the Japanese find this environment new and are "untrained" to cope with conflicts in this new way of life.

He said the definition of neurosis was the same everywhere: that it occurred when an individual's anxieties reached the point where his daily adjustment to life was disturbed.

Dr. Omi said that the problem of man against machine was a new and heavy burden. He said a Japanese still using the ancient abacus for mathematical calculations is liable to feel "isolated and alone" in an office with computers and adding machines.

WHEN ASKED why the Japanese rate of neurosis was lower than in the U.S., he said, "We are behind industrially compared to the United States."

Despite Japan's gigantic strides in industrial growth, Dr. Omi doubted if the Japanese would ever become as neurotic as Americans reportedly are.

Emphasizing the significance of infancy and childhood in emotional development, Dr. Omi said, "The upbringing of children is entirely different in the two nations."

A Tough Decision

By James Marlow

Kennedy Could Get Mussed Up On Taxes

WASHINGTON

President Kennedy has two chances to get mussed up and one to look good in deciding whether an income tax cut is necessary now to give the economy a transfusion.

There is general belief in Washington the President in his nationwide broadcast tonight will decide against a cut at this time.

Any cut now would be based on the hope, and even that is in dispute, that people with more money to spend would spend enough of it to make the economy pick up and sail.

Since economics is not an exact science, neither the President nor his advisers can be positive what turn the economy will take before the end of the year.

All he can do is make an educated guess based on the July economic statistics, with the help of those around him. If the economy holds up well until 1963, without a tax cut, he will look good.

There are two ways in which he could suffer damage, no matter what he decides.

If he asked for a cut this late in Congress, with the members anxious to get home for the election campaigns, he might be ignored. There is some powerful Democratic opposition in Congress to a cut now.

To be ignored on this would be one more Kennedy defeat in a Congress run by Democrats at a time when he plans to stump the country, asking the voters to elect even more Democrats.

While such a defeat would be a reflection on his leadership, a no tax-cut decision now, if the economy took a dive before the end of 1962, could be interpreted as a reflection on his judgment.

One thing is sure: A cut now, meaning less revenue for the government, would put the nation deeper in the red. The very thought of this has caused some sturdy opposition to a 1962 reduction.

Once through this rocky year, without a cut or a bad slump, then in 1963 Kennedy could ask for both a tax cut and tax reforms. The reforms would provide revenue to make up for that lost through a cut.

The President is expected to talk about the economy in general but such a talk might have been more effective, and made tonight's unnecessary, if he had made it last spring at the time of the steel dispute.

Kennedy thought he had persuaded the steel industry and the Steelworkers Union to reach a settlement making a price increase unnecessary. Suddenly steel boosted prices. Kennedy got angry. Steel dropped the increase.

Then Kennedy's relations with business began to deteriorate.

A nationwide talk by the President then — on the state of the economy and why he wanted moderation by business and labor — might have cleared the air, encouraged business, and done the economy real good.

Instead, Kennedy let the criticism pile up. Eventually he brought businessmen to the White House for talks. What he did then he probably could have done better in a broadcast.

Bogus Conservatives

By Raymond Moley

A little group, in which Sen. Wayne Morse is the most wordy, is creating great embarrassment for its party and its president by opposition to the communications satellite bill.

Whether they win or lose, we may be sure that in the campaign to come these senators will be out there shouting meal-mouthed hosannas for their "great president" and the liberal Democratic party. When the chips are down, they will support their party. They have nowhere else to go, if they expect to stay in official life.

That sort of conformity is not found in certain individuals organizing to defeat Nixon in California and Rockefeller and Javits in New York.

In California, Nixon emerged successfully from a primary fight. But his opponents in that primary have now pledged themselves to support their party and its candidates.

However, a group in Sacramento, which is a branch of a party called Conservatives of America, with headquarters in New Orleans, will attempt to destroy Nixon by supporting and voting for Gov. Brown.

IN NEW YORK, a Conservative party has selected candidates to help defeat Rockefeller and Javits and elect certain Democratic candidates who have not yet been chosen.

In California these alleged conservatives do not like Brown or agree with what he stands for. Their purpose is weaken the Republican party and destroy its chosen leader, Richard Nixon.

In New York they ignore the fact that Rockefeller has been a competent and prudent governor and a professed Republican. Javits' voting record is more liberal than that of the majority of his party, but a study of 115 roll calls shows that his record is more conservative than that of 49 Democratic senators.

It has been a habit of those who write for the public prints to call these dissidents and destroyers in California and New York "conservative extremists." I don't mind their being called extremists. But I resent their being called conservative.

During the past three years, during which we have heard so much about these extremists, I have reviewed the history and policies of conservatism from Burke to the present—its mood, convictions, and methods. I have formulated the following definition of a conservative:

THE CONSERVATIVE puts his faith in free men, unfettered, so far as is practicable, by state authority. He recognizes the human fallibility of man, but he believes he must learn through his errors.

On the other hand, the "liberal" has no faith at all in the individual but believes he must be subjected to the tyranny of an official elite. The conservative abhors violence and extremism. He believes neither in sudden salvation nor in instant damnation.

His objective is progress by remedies for present problems achieved within the guidelines of successfully proved constitutional traditions. In achieving progress when confronted by a governing majority dedicated to "liberalism," he believes in keeping things from getting worse.

Finally, he recognizes that to win a majority capable of reshaping national and state policies, he must work through the two-party system—an institution created in Anglo-American life by the great constitutionalists of the past. It is an institution which has been preserved in Britain and the United States while other nations in the Western World have been destroyed by their multiple-party misgovernment.

These alleged conservatives in California and New York do not conform to the foregoing definition. Their reactionary suicidal methods would, if successful, lead us down to the tragedy of the multiple-party nations of continental Europe.

They would destroy the very essence of conservative, moderate progress and deny free men the power to grow and to achieve the general welfare through orderly change.

Negroes Try To Worship At Segregated Churches

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Singly or in small groups, Negroes tried to worship at segregated white churches in this racially troubled city but only one got past the doors on an otherwise relaxed Sabbath.

A Negro woman, Doris Derby, 22, was admitted to St. Paul's Episcopal church. Two other Negroes attended Mass at St. Teresa's Catholic church, but members of their race have worshipped there before.

Two churches turned Negroes away. A white New York minister, the Rev. Ralph Lord Roy, led two Negroes to Trinity Methodist church. He said they were asked to come back some other time.

Two Negroes who tried to attend Central Baptist church said a white man told them they would have to leave or he would summon a policeman.

The president of the Albany Movement, W. G. Anderson, said it was "sacrilegious that worshippers are turned away from a house of God."

He disclosed plans for a major drive in Albany to register Negro voters and said his organization would "continue to test public facilities."

The efforts to use segregated facilities, he said, were being made on the basis of a statement by the city attorney, H. Grady Rawls, who said Friday in Recorder's Court that the city did not enforce its segregation ordinances.

Albany's city parks and library remained closed after they were locked Saturday when Negroes tried to use them.

Fire Insurance Rates Changed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—New fire insurance rates went into effect today on specifically rated buildings generally throughout Ohio.

The state insurance department said the changes applied to companies belonging to the Ohio Inspection Bureau, an independent group, and included most firms operating in the state.

The rates on new policies and renewals were increased for most businesses and factories and decreased for most public buildings and schools.

Increases ranged from 15 to 20 per cent on buildings and 10 per cent on contents for commercial establishments in brick of fire - resistant buildings. Rates on frame commercial buildings within three miles of an approved fire department were cut.

The commercial increases applied mainly to rates published by the bureau after Aug. 27, 1951. Rates on public and educational buildings published between Aug. 27, 1951, and Dec. 20, 1959, and a few after the latter date, were affected.

2 Car Blazes Quelled By Chester's Firemen

Chester firemen reported two automobile blazes were extinguished Sunday.

Fourteen men responded to a fire Sunday morning at 4:15 in the auto of S. A. Pickler of East Liverpool on Carolina Ave. between 3rd and 4th Sts.

Thirteen men answered a call to Virginia Ave. at 2nd St. at 12:15 p. m. when the motor ignited in a car owned by John Weir, 210 Virginia Ave.

richstrasse to cross into East Berlin. The cars were spat on. Men shouted "pigs" and unprintable expressions at the Russians.

In a broadcast carried by all radio stations, Mayor Willy Brandt said: "In this minute we all remember the bitter injustice which has been done our city. We think about our relatives and friends, about our countrymen, who by brutal force are separated from us, and we honor the victims of the wall."

Wreaths were placed along the wall in memory of at least 37 people who have died on it during its year of existence.

One East German guard on the wall marked the day by jumping across the barricade to asylum in West Berlin.

Many West Berliners turned up Sunday evening to wave across the wall to relatives.

Leaflets calling for a rally in West Berlin this evening were distributed. They were signed by the "Committee for an Indivisible Berlin." Police said the rally had not been licensed.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called on the world never to forget the 17 million people living as in a prison in Red-ruled East Germany.

Illegal, Inhuman British Say Of Wall

LONDON (AP)—Britain today described the Communist wall in Berlin as illegal and inhuman and expressed sympathy for Berliners who have suffered because of it.

The description was given by the Foreign Office spokesman to newsmen in commenting on the first anniversary of the wall.

Cooler Weather Follows Shower

Cooler weather moved into the Tri-State area today in the wake of a shower late Sunday night.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, measured 0.14 inch in the rain that began about 11 p. m. It was the first appreciable shower since last Thursday, when varying amounts fell on the area. The precipitation then measured up to a half inch.

The Ohio weatherman said today will be partly cloudy and cooler with a high of 74 to 80 degrees. The low tonight will be in the 50's.

Tuesday will be fair and cool, the forecaster said. The overnight low in downtown East Liverpool was 68 degrees.

Lang Due At Hearing On Lake Road Section

Atty. Francis H. Lang, director and past president of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway Association, will represent the group when the State Highway Department holds a public hearing Tuesday afternoon in Columbiana on the proposed location of a link of the freeway into Mahoning County.

The 13.3-mile link is between Route 558 in Columbiana County and Route 224 east of Canfield in Mahoning County.

Children Hurt In Auto Crash

Three children of a Chester physician were among those injured in a two-car crash on the Green Garden Rd. in Hopewell Township, near Aliquippa, Sunday afternoon at 1:30.

They are Michael Joseph Ciccarelli, 6, who suffered contusions and lacerations of the scalp requiring 13 stitches; Carl David Ciccarelli, 7, who received contusions of the forehead and the top of the head, and Pamela Ann Ciccarelli, 9, who suffered contusions of the leg and face.

They are the children of Dr. Carl A. Ciccarelli, 623 Carolina Ave., Chester, and Mrs. Wanda McGaffick of Aliquippa.

They had been in Chester visiting and were en route home with the mother. They were in a car driven by Mrs. Jacqueline Vass of Aliquippa.

Township police said Mrs. Vass swerved left after applying her brakes and struck an oncoming car driven by Mrs. Helen H. Kyker of the Green Garden Rd.

Mrs. Vass suffered a cut lip. Another passenger in the Vass vehicle, William Vass, suffered a laceration of the forehead and abrasions of the arm. Mrs. Kyker and her husband, Leonard Kyker, also were injured slightly.

All were treated at the Aliquippa Hospital.

Quick parfait from the pantry-shelf and freezer: mix drained crushed pineapple with undiluted frozen orange - juice concentrate and layer between scoops of vanilla ice cream in tall glasses. Garnish with sprigs of mint and fresh cherries with stems on.

Ever simmer shredded green cabbage in milk and then stir in butter or margarine blended with flour to thicken? Salt goes in, of course, and a goodly portion of pepper benefits this dish.

Hurt Boy, Sister Seen Improved At Hospital

SALEM — A brother and sister of two area boys killed Friday afternoon when a car ran into a group of youngsters on Cunningham Rd. were in "fairly good" condition today at Salem City Hospital with injuries suffered in the tragedy.

Marie Annette Kalbfell, 13, and Joseph Lee Kalbfell, 4, were injured when a car operated by Richard Dickey, 19, of Ohio Ave. struck the group after he lost control coming over the crest of a hill.

David W. Kalbfell, 11, and his brother, Frank, 5, were injured fatally. They were sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Kalbfell of Salem R. D. 3.

Authorities were continuing an investigation of the mishap today.

Doris St. Clair Becomes Bride Of Donald Rogers

MRS. D. A. ROGERS
Her Nuptials Held July 28.

Miss Doris Estella St. Clair carried a white Bible, the gift of the bridegroom, when she wed Donald Eugene Rogers the evening of July 28 at 7:30 o'clock in the First Church of the Nazarene.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. St. Clair of 7th Ave., LaCroft, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rogers, 1577 Cleveland Ave.

The Rev. James Hunton, minister, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar setting of palms, ferns and seven-branch candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Jeff Capehart, a church organist, presented a half-hour of nuptial music. Miss Janet Birch sang "I Love You Truly," "If I Could Tell You," "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza. The fitted bodice was styled with a scalloped neckline outlined with Alencon lace and long, pointed sleeves. The lace was also featured on the envelope skirt with a crushed satin rose highlighting the base of the chapel train.

A lace cap, trimmed with sequins and seed pearls and topped with a cabbage rose, held her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. An arrangement of white roses, stephanotis and satin streamers topped her Bible. Observing the traditions, she borrowed the lace handkerchief her aunt, Mrs. William Emmerling, carried at her wedding.

Mrs. Nelda Sulek was matron of honor. Mrs. Ruby Shura and Mrs. Charlotte Reed were bridesmaids and Miss Penny Jo Rogers, niece of the bridegroom, the junior bridesmaid.

They wore sheath dresses of aqua silk fashioned with round necklines and short sleeves. Detachable overskirts of silk organza, designed with handkerchief points, set off the skirts. Blush veils were attached to their caps, fashioned in a cluster of points and interspersed with seed pearls.

The matron of honor carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and carnations trimmed with yellow net and the bridesmaids' bouquets featured yellow roses, white carnations and white net.

Pamela Gibbs, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore an aqua dress with a white handkerchief overskirt. Buddy Emmerling, another cousin, was ring bearer.

Jack Rogers served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Charles Peck and Richard Mantz. Jeff Rogers, nephew of the bridegroom, was junior usher.

The mother of the bride chose a gray brocade sheath with pink accessories and corsage of pink rosebuds and carnations. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a sheath of brown eyelet with white accessories and white carnation and red rosebud corsage.

A reception for 300 followed at the Calcutta fire hall. The buffet table was centered with a four-tier cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple. A white and silver theme completed the setting.

Aides were Mrs. Louise Emmerling, Mrs. Dorothy Gibbs and Miss Anita St. Clair, cousins of the bride; Mrs. Shirley Rogers, the bridegroom's sister-in-law, and Miss Nancy Rogers, his niece. Dave Rogers and Crystal Emmerling, young cousins of the couple, assisted.

Guests were from Flint, Mich., Chicago, Akron, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Rittman, Youngstown, New Castle and Wampum, Pa.

The newlyweds are 1956 graduates of East Liverpool High School. The bride was graduated in 1961 from Kent State University where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority and the Association of Women Students. She teaches typing and shorthand at Wellsville High School.

Her husband is a 1960 graduate of Ohio University, where he majored in business administration. He is a member of the Army Reserve. He attended Steubenville College this summer and plans to teach school in the district.

For her Southern honeymoon, the bride wore a blue and white two-piece jersey dress with white accessories and her bridal orchid.

Doris St. Clair Becomes Bride Of Donald Rogers

MRS. D. A. ROGERS
Her Nuptials Held July 28.

Miss Doris Estella St. Clair carried a white Bible, the gift of the bridegroom, when she wed Donald Eugene Rogers the evening of July 28 at 7:30 o'clock in the First Church of the Nazarene.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. St. Clair of 7th Ave., LaCroft, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rogers, 1577 Cleveland Ave.

The Rev. James Hunton, minister, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar setting of palms, ferns and seven-branch candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Jeff Capehart, a church organist, presented a half-hour of nuptial music. Miss Janet Birch sang "I Love You Truly," "If I Could Tell You," "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza. The fitted bodice was styled with a scalloped neckline outlined with Alencon lace and long, pointed sleeves. The lace was also featured on the envelope skirt with a crushed satin rose highlighting the base of the chapel train.

A lace cap, trimmed with sequins and seed pearls and topped with a cabbage rose, held her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. An arrangement of white roses, stephanotis and satin streamers topped her Bible. Observing the traditions, she borrowed the lace handkerchief her aunt, Mrs. William Emmerling, carried at her wedding.

Mrs. Nelda Sulek was matron of honor. Mrs. Ruby Shura and Mrs. Charlotte Reed were bridesmaids and Miss Penny Jo Rogers, niece of the bridegroom, the junior bridesmaid.

They wore sheath dresses of aqua silk fashioned with round necklines and short sleeves. Detachable overskirts of silk organza, designed with handkerchief points, set off the skirts. Blush veils were attached to their caps, fashioned in a cluster of points and interspersed with seed pearls.

The matron of honor carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and carnations trimmed with yellow net and the bridesmaids' bouquets featured yellow roses, white carnations and white net.

Pamela Gibbs, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore an aqua dress with a white handkerchief overskirt. Buddy Emmerling, another cousin, was ring bearer.

Jack Rogers served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Charles Peck and Richard Mantz. Jeff Rogers, nephew of the bridegroom, was junior usher.

The mother of the bride chose a gray brocade sheath with pink accessories and corsage of pink rosebuds and carnations. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a sheath of brown eyelet with white accessories and white carnation and red rosebud corsage.

A reception for 300 followed at the Calcutta fire hall. The buffet table was centered with a four-tier cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple. A white and silver theme completed the setting.

Aides were Mrs. Louise Emmerling, Mrs. Dorothy Gibbs and Miss Anita St. Clair, cousins of the bride; Mrs. Shirley Rogers, the bridegroom's sister-in-law, and Miss Nancy Rogers, his niece. Dave Rogers and Crystal Emmerling, young cousins of the couple, assisted.

Guests were from Flint, Mich., Chicago, Akron, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Rittman, Youngstown, New Castle and Wampum, Pa.

The newlyweds are 1956 graduates of East Liverpool High School. The bride was graduated in 1961 from Kent State University where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority and the Association of Women Students. She teaches typing and shorthand at Wellsville High School.

Her husband is a 1960 graduate of Ohio University, where he majored in business administration. He is a member of the Army Reserve. He attended Steubenville College this summer and plans to teach school in the district.

For her Southern honeymoon, the bride wore a blue and white two-piece jersey dress with white accessories and her bridal orchid.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm sharing an apartment with two other career girls. It takes careful financial managing to keep this rather elegant roof over our heads but we all feel it's worth it.

The problem: One of the girls has a steady boy friend who hangs around every evening. These two lie on the sofa and neck regardless of who is present. We have only one sitting room and they have taken it over completely.

The other evening I had a date. When he arrived I wanted to introduce him to the couple on the sofa. They didn't even get up to say "How do you do" — just waved "Hi" from a reclining positi.n.

We knew this girl well before we signed the lease but we had no idea she had so little respect for herself.

What can we do? We have eight months to go on this lease and we need her financial help. —GLENDALE

Dear Glendale: I assume you are splitting the rent three ways which entitles each of you to equal rights. Sit down with a calendar and mark out the days this girl can have the living room. It should be two nights a week and a third night every three weeks. Tell her this is the program from now on and she'll have to abide by it.

And look for another girl to replace the lounge lizard when the lease expires. She doesn't sound as though she belongs with you two.

Avoid Comparison

Dear Ann: I'm a middle-aged business man who is going with a very fine widow. I've known this woman for many years and have always admired her.

After a year of steady courtship I asked her to marry me. She said yes. This woman seldom mentions her deceased husband (which I appreciate) but I know they were a devoted couple. Last night I asked her straight away if she loved me as much as she loved him. She hesitated a moment. Then, in an almost belligerent voice, she announced, "I will never be able to love anyone as much as I loved him."

I am terribly hurt over this and don't know what to make of it. What do you think about the situation?—DOWNHEARTED

-:-

Dear Downhearted: You got precisely what you deserved. You had no business fishing for comparisons. Your question forced the woman to verbalize her loyalty and devotion to her dead husband.

It could well be that she loves you in a different way and for different reasons. Now take your foot out of your big mouth and resolve to steer clear of the subject.

She's Staying

Dear Ann: Your letter from "Ready To Scram" prompted me to speak my piece. I am going to sign this letter "Not About To Scram" — and I hope it will give strength and encouragement to other second wives who are struggling with the problem of rebellious stepchildren, as I am.

I married a man who has a daughter 20 years of age. She came to live with us two years ago. This girl's mother let her get away with murder. She is lazy and sloppy beyond words. Her clothes are on chairs, doorknobs, under the bed — everywhere but where they belong. She even leaves the bath towels on the floor for me to pick up.

If I say one word to the girl her father turns on me like a tiger. I'm sure she tries to maneuver me into losing my temper in the hope that it will make trouble between her father and me.

I'm determined not to let this girl break up my marriage. She'd like nothing better than to have her Daddy all to herself. But I'm — NOT ABOUT TO SCRAM.

---

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm sharing an apartment with two other career girls. It takes careful financial managing to keep this rather elegant roof over our heads but we all feel it's worth it.

The problem: One of the girls has a steady boy friend who hangs around every evening. These two lie on the sofa and neck regardless of who is present. We have only one sitting room and they have taken it over completely.

The other evening I had a date. When he arrived I wanted to introduce him to the couple on the sofa. They didn't even get up to say "How do you do" — just waved "Hi" from a reclining positi.n.

We knew this girl well before we signed the lease but we had no idea she had so little respect for herself.

What can we do? We have eight months to go on this lease and we need her financial help. —GLENDALE

Dear Glendale: I assume you are splitting the rent three ways which entitles each of you to equal rights. Sit down with a calendar and mark out the days this girl can have the living room. It should be two nights a week and a third night every three weeks. Tell her this is the program from now on and she'll have to abide by it.

And look for another girl to replace the lounge lizard when the lease expires. She doesn't sound as though she belongs with you two.

Avoid Comparison

Dear Ann: I'm a middle-aged business man who is going with a very fine widow. I've known this woman for many years and have always admired her.

After a year of steady courtship I asked her to marry me. She said yes. This woman seldom mentions her deceased husband (which I appreciate) but I know they were a devoted couple. Last night I asked her straight away if she loved me as much as she loved him. She hesitated a moment. Then, in an almost belligerent voice, she announced, "I will never be able to love anyone as much as I loved him."

I am terribly hurt over this and don't know what to make of it. What do you think about the situation?—DOWNHEARTED

-:-

Dear Downhearted: You got precisely what you deserved. You had no business fishing for comparisons. Your question forced the woman to verbalize her loyalty and devotion to her dead husband.

It could well be that she loves you in a different way and for different reasons. Now take your foot out of your big mouth and resolve to steer clear of the subject.

She's Staying

Dear Ann: Your letter from "Ready To Scram" prompted me to speak my piece. I am going to sign this letter "Not About To Scram" — and I hope it will give strength and encouragement to other second wives who are struggling with the problem of rebellious stepchildren, as I am.

I married a man who has a daughter 20 years of age. She came to live with us two years ago. This girl's mother let her get away with murder. She is lazy and sloppy beyond words. Her clothes are on chairs, doorknobs, under the bed — everywhere but where they belong. She even leaves the bath towels on the floor for me to pick up.

If I say one word to the girl her father turns on me like a tiger. I'm sure she tries to maneuver me into losing my temper in the hope that it will make trouble between her father and me.

I'm determined not to let this girl break up my marriage. She'd like nothing better than to have her Daddy all to herself. But I'm — NOT ABOUT TO SCRAM.

---

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Japanese youth who crossed the Pacific alone in a 19-foot sailboat on a diet of Japanese rice, beer, sake and fresh fish wants to stay in the United States two years to learn English.

The plans of Kenichi Horie, 23, of Osaka, are somewhat clouded by the fact he arrived without passport, visa, immunization record, proof of financial stability or a sponsor.

While the U.S. Immigration Service, the Public Health Service and the Japanese consulate work on the problem, Horie is staying at the home of a consulate employe in amiable protective custody.

Horie sailed into San Francisco Bay Sunday after a three-month voyage from Osaka. The surprised U.S. Coast Guard escorted him to St. Francis yacht harbor and called for the Immigration Service.

With the aid of his Japanese-English dictionary Horie got across to officials his plan to stay two years and learn English. Then he passed around cups of sake, a rice wine, to curious onlookers.

The Coast Guard studied the little sailboat with small cabin forward and found only a tiny radio-direction finder, sextant and a compass. No auxiliary engine or radio communications gear encumbered Horie.

"Obviously one hell of a navigator," mused one Coast Guard man.

Horie's family in Osaka was overjoyed at the news of his arrival.

The Japanese government, which had given him up for dead, said it was astounded.

Japan had denied Horie a passport on the ground the planned trip was suicidal. His family was against it, too, but explained that Horie was a determined, adventurous youth.

British scientists also said the Soviet accomplishment could lead to the early development of military satellites that would home on such spy-in-the-sky satellites as the U.S. Midas and Samos and destroy them.

Soviet announcements so far gave no indication when the two spaceships would be brought to earth.

An informed Soviet source said he believed the two cosmonauts would not come down today.

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank radio telescope, said in London Sunday he had been advised by Moscow sources that the flights would continue "a few days."

A U.S. tracking station near Johannesburg, South Africa, calculated from the orbits that both astronauts took off from a launching site in the Baikonur area near the Armenian border.

Robert Citron, chief of the Smithsonian Institution station, predicted the two ships would land near Krasny Kut, in the southeastern part of the Soviet Union.

Nikolayev told control headquarters he could see Popovich's ship through his porthole as the two ships hurtled through space completing each earth orbit in slightly more than 88 minutes.

At its maximum orbital height of 157 miles, Vostok IV was 14 miles higher than Vostok III. They reached a minimum orbital height of 112 and 111 miles respectively.

The faces of both spacemen were flashed on Soviet television screens during their journey. The transmissions showed them doing such tasks as manipulating what appeared to be log books.

At one point, they carried on a three-way radio chat with Yuri Gagarin, the first man in space.

"Everything is fine, friends," Gagarin said. "Congratulations, till we meet on the earth.

"I watch the earth from the clouds," said Popovich. "To the right in the illuminator (porthole) I see the black, black sky. My spirits are wonderful. Everything goes on excellently."

Nikolayev broke in with: "Everything is excellent. I hear you excellently. My spirits are excellent."

Court Opens Hearing On Koppers Picketing

A hearing on an injunction to ban mass picketing at the strike-bound Kobuta plant of Koppers Co. near Monaca got underway this morning in Beaver County Court and still was continuing shortly before noon.

Judge Robert McCreary is conducting the hearing on the request by the firm to ban the mass picketing. Shortly before noon, the attorneys for the company and union were in conference with Judge McCreary in his chambers.

Meanwhile, talks between the union and company in Washington have been recessed to Wednesday. The Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers union went on strike May 1. About 650 are idle.

White Takes Slap At Rhodes Claims

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP)—William L. White, who lost the Republican gubernatorial nomination to State Auditor James A. Rhodes, asserted today the Rhodes plan to expand Ohio industry "would only provide for 5,000 jobs."

Rhodes proposed creation of a state authority empowered to issue up to $100 million in revenue bonds for self-liquidating loans to help finance new and expanding Ohio industry and create some 200,000 new jobs.

"Since it takes approximately $20,000 investment in industry to provide one job, if Mr. Rhodes could use the credit of the state . . . to raise $100 million, it would provide for 5,000 jobs," White said in a prepared statement.

"Political astronaut Rhodes should come down from his orbit to earth and tell the people how he proposed to solve the following pressing state problems:

"Provide a more favorable tax climate to prevent industry from leaving Ohio and to attract new industry; the growing educational needs; mental health, reduce juvenile delinquency, and a safety program to stop highway slaughter and save 1,000 lives yearly."

Court Dismisses Assault Charges

An assault and battery charge against Robert Huddleston of 8 Thompson Pl. was dismissed this morning by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff following a hearing.

Judge Chertoff ordered Huddleston and Harry Bazluk of 3 Thompson Pl. to shake hands and forget the incident which revolved around Bazluk and the Huddleston's 5-year-old daughter.

Bazluk alleged Huddleston struck him Friday. Huddleston had pleaded not guilty.

Ronnie Howell of Joetown, near Newell, is due for a hearing Tuesday morning on a charge filed by Brady G. Mercer of Newell alleging Howell assaulted and threatened him with bodily harm Thursday.

Howell pleaded innocent and the case was continued for Mercer to appear. The Joetown man was released on his own recognizance.

Woman Hurt As Car Dives Off Highway

A Lisbon area woman was injured in one of three district traffic mishaps over the weekend, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported today.

Mrs. Charlsetta Wilson, 33, of Lisbon R.D. 1 was treated at City Hospital Sunday morning after the car in which she was a passenger veered off Route 30 and struck a fence near the Crockery City Farms.

She suffered bruises of the chin and chest and abrasions of the right knee.

Officers said she was a passenger in a car driven by Lena Alice Grimm Schmidt, 25, of 2007 Nevada St., Wellsville, who was headed south when her 1946 coupe went off the right side of the road and struck the wooden fence on property owned by Leonard C. Webber of East Liverpool. There was moderate damage to the auto.

The driver, along with Jesse J. Flowers, 44, of 927 Fairview St., East Liverpool, and James L. Wilson, 36, of Lisbon R.D. 1, was unhurt, the patrol said. The mishap was timed at 7 a. m.

Alice Kathryn Reynolds, 40, of 429 E. Washington St., Lisbon, was charged with traveling at a speed in excess of road conditions after her car rammed a tree and overturned along Route 30 about three miles west of Lisbon yesterday morning at 1:30.

Officers said she was headed east when her 1950 sedan went onto the berm and she lost control, the car veering across the highway and hitting a tree, then upsetting. She was taken to Salem City Hospital for examination for possible leg injuries.

Glenn Pitts, 16, of Hanoverton R.D. 1 was cited for driving left of center yesterday afternoon about 4 when his 1958 auto slid off Route 644 two miles northwest of Salineville and hit an embankment.

The patrol said the car went onto the right berm, then veered back across the highway and hit the embankment, causing considerable damage to the auto.

Court Forgives Fine, Woman Gets Freedom

Miss Trufley had been held in jail since Thursday to serve out a fine of $50 and costs imposed on a charge of malicious destruction of property.

Miss Trufley was treated at City Hospital Sunday night after complaining to police of dizziness and being unable to retain anything on her stomach.

Lawn Helped By Dry Wells

Practically all the new houses are fitted with gutters and leaders, frequently referred to as eaves troughs and downspouts.

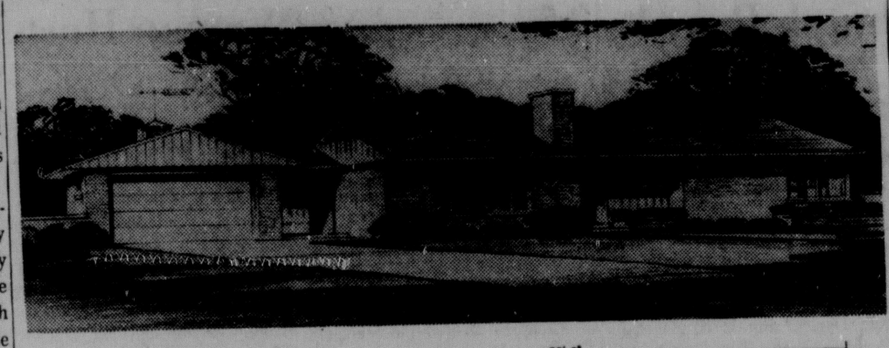

Their purpose is to prevent heavy rain from cascading down the face of the house walls. By taking the rain at the edges of the roof and leading it down to the ground for disposal, damage to the exterior walls is avoided.

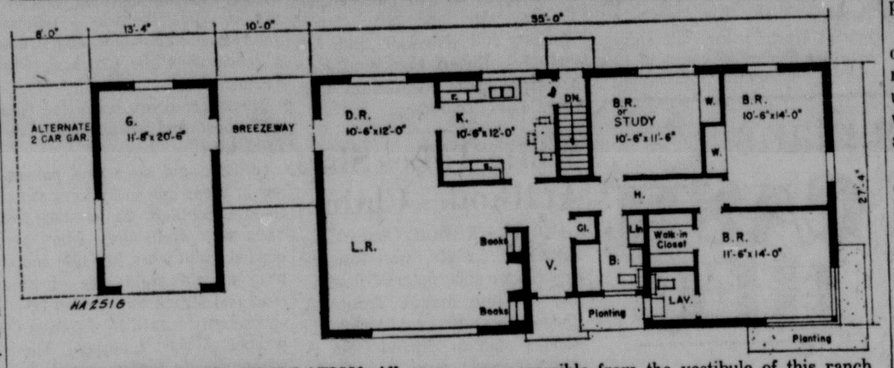

However, during a heavy rain, the opening at the bottom of a leader gushes water in a powerful stream and new lawns are often gouged deep by the onrush. Splash mats beneath the gutter are effective as long as the lawn is well established and rooted, but if it is not, deep erosion takes place.

One of the best ways to prevent this damage is to install dry wells beneath the spout. An easy way to accomplish this is to take an old barrel and knock out both the ends. This is placed in a hole and then filled with broken stone or gravel. The result is that the water will be disposed of directly into the ground and injury to the new lawn will be averted.

Dry wells of this type generally have a life of three to four years. After that they become clogged up with silt and their effectiveness is reduced considerably.

However, during the time they are fully functioning, the lawn has a chance to stabilize. When this point is reached, a few inches of the stone can be taken out and soil dumped in and raked off smooth. A splash mat can then be installed. There is no necessity for digging out the barrel or going to any great amount of trouble.

HOUSE WITH GOOD CIRCULATION. All rooms are accessible from the vestibule of this ranch house, without walking through the living room. A family room could be created by partitioning the living room and dining room and omitting the partition between dining room and kitchen. A two-car garage could be built instead of the single garage. Homes for Americans Plan HA251G is of brick veneer on wood construction with asphalt shingle roof. House area is 1,459 square feet. Architect is Elmer Gylleck, 358 E. Chicago St., Elgin, Ill.

Flimsy Roofs Can Be Fixed

A great number of houses come under the heading of summer shacks, seashore bungalows, lakeside cabins and so on.

The majority are lightly built. And many of them lack the structural details which produce a really substantial dwelling. This also might be said about houses which are supposed to be more than a part-time shelter.

For example, take the skeleton or frame of a light house. The roof rafters slant down and rest upon the outside edge of the plate which is supported by the wall studs.

Nearly always, it will be noted that the ends of the rafters are not notched out (as they should be), so that the actual bearing they have on the plate is practically nothing. Heavy winds against the roof surface cannot help but move and work a roof so supported. The result will be a completely unsound roof which will start to leak before very long.

This condition can be remedied without rebuilding the roof frame. And it can be done easily and economically by any home owner. The procedure is to cut triangular filler pieces of 2-by-4 stock to fit snugly in the space between the rafters and the inside edge of the plate. They are then spiked in place securely. These pieces should be cut accurately and be a tight fit. Once they are in place, it will be evident to anyone that they will brace the rafters and add tremendously to the strength of the entire roof structure.

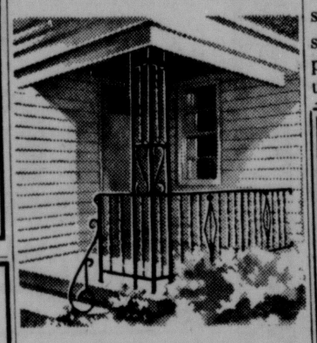

It is estimated that the average small house could be so braced and strengthened in half a day by any home owner modestly adept in handling a hammer and a saw.

Now's Time To Check Heating, Not Later

It is an interesting note on human nature that, like the proverbial ne'er-do-well who sees no reason to fix a leaking roof on a sunny day, we are all prone to put off doing something or other until the need is urgent.

For example, any plumbing-heating contractor can tell you that his busiest time for installing, modernizing, repairing or checking residential heating systems is late autumn.

This just seems to be one of those things that people forget about each spring, only to find it difficult to get fast service at the beginning of the next heating season.

The wise home owner, says the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, sees to these matters during the summer and is thus assured of getting what he wants before the big rush.

Every heating system should be checked for proper operation once a year by an experienced contractor. Often, just a slight adjustment by the man who knows what he is doing not only effects a savings in fuel bills but prevents possible repairs due to continued use of a malfunctioning system.

But whether it's an adjustment or repairs, the contractor will have more time for your problem if you call him during the summer months.

The same goes, of course, for installing or modernizing your hydronic heating system or installing a hydronic snow-melting system in the driveway and walk. Remember that a good heating system, like a fine watch or automobile, cannot be hurriedly 'thrown together' in a few minutes.

To insure the undelayed, efficient operation of your home's heating system, and your family's comfort next winter, it is a good idea to make the arrangements now.

Steps Outlined For Correcting Of Loose Mortar

Question: I have reason to believe that rainwater is seeping through the rear wall of our brick house. I cannot see exactly where the water is making an entry, but there are many places where the mortar has loosened from between the bricks.

I have been reading about a liquid silicone product that waterproofs brick exteriors without changing the color of the bricks. Will an application of this liquid correct the trouble?

Answer: Silicones are effective in making masonry walls more water-repellent and will seal hairline cracks. But they will not substitute for mortar in filling joints that have begun to disintegrate.

If you want an effective job, you will have to patch the joints first, then apply one of the silicone preparations.

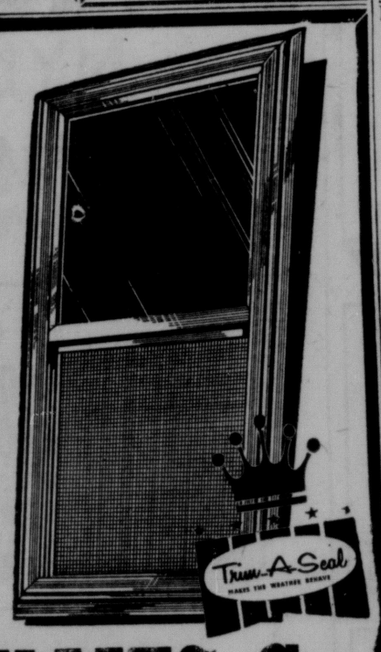

Remove all loose mortar with an old screwdriver or a cold chisel and hammer. Soak the cavity and the surrounding area with water, then apply the mortar with a trowel. Be sure to pack it in firmly. Keep a damp cloth handy, so that you can quickly wipe off any mortar that gets on the face of the brick.

The patched joints should be wet down once or twice a day for several days to prevent the mortar from drying out too quickly. You can buy a mortar mix which requires only the addition of water.

Lawn Helped By Dry Wells

Practically all the new houses are fitted with gutters and leaders, frequently referred to as eaves troughs and downspouts.

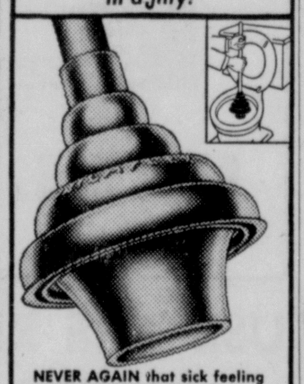

Their purpose is to prevent heavy rain from cascading down the face of the house walls. By taking the rain at the edges of the roof and leading it down to the ground for disposal, damage to the exterior walls is avoided.

However, during a heavy rain, the opening at the bottom of a leader gushes water in a powerful stream and new lawns are often gouged deep by the onrush. Splash mats beneath the gutter are effective as long as the lawn is well established and rooted, but if it is not, deep erosion takes place.

One of the best ways to prevent this damage is to install dry wells beneath the spout. An easy way to accomplish this is to take an old barrel and knock out both the ends. This is placed in a hole and then filled with broken stone or gravel. The result is that the water will be disposed of directly into the ground and injury to the new lawn will be averted.

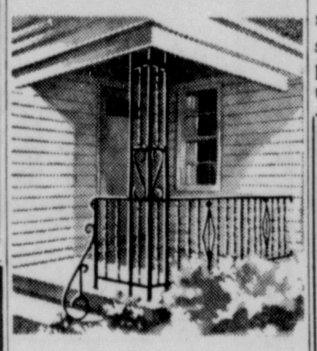

Dry wells of this type generally have a life of three to four years. After that they become clogged up with silt and their effectiveness is reduced considerably.

However, during the time they are fully functioning, the lawn has a chance to stabilize. When this point is reached, a few inches of the stone can be taken out and soil dumped in and raked off smooth. A splash mat can then be installed. There is no necessity for digging out the barrel or going to any great amount of trouble.

Now's Time To Check Heating, Not Later

It is an interesting note on human nature that, like the proverbial ne'er-do-well who sees no reason to fix a leaking roof on a sunny day, we are all prone to put off doing something or other until the need is urgent.

For example, any plumbing-heating contractor can tell you that his busiest time for installing, modernizing, repairing or checking residential heating systems is late autumn.

This just seems to be one of those things that people forget about each spring, only to find it difficult to get fast service at the beginning of the next heating season.

The wise home owner, says the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, sees to these matters during the summer and is thus assured of getting what he wants before the big rush.

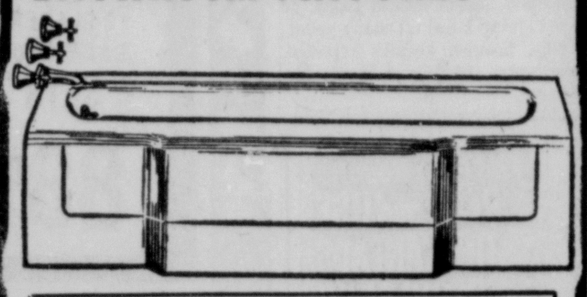

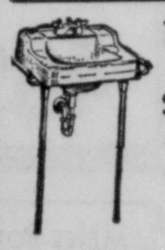

Every heating system should be checked for proper operation once a year by an experienced contractor. Often, just a slight adjustment by the man who knows what he is doing not only effects a savings in fuel bills but prevents possible repairs due to continued use of a malfunctioning system.

But whether it's an adjustment or repairs, the contractor will have more time for your problem if you call him during the summer months.

The same goes, of course, for installing or modernizing your hydronic heating system or installing a hydronic snow-melting system in the driveway and walk. Remember that a good heating system, like a fine watch or automobile, cannot be hurriedly 'thrown together' in a few minutes.

To insure the undelayed, efficient operation of your home's heating system, and your family's comfort next winter, it is a good idea to make the arrangements now.

Flimsy Roofs Can Be Fixed

A great number of houses come under the heading of summer shacks, seashore bungalows, lakeside cabins and so on.

The majority are lightly built. And many of them lack the structural details which produce a really substantial dwelling. This also might be said about houses which are supposed to be more than a part-time shelter.

For example, take the skeleton or frame of a light house. The roof rafters slant down and rest upon the outside edge of the plate which is supported by the wall studs.

Nearly always, it will be noted that the ends of the rafters are not notched out (as they should be), so that the actual bearing they have on the plate is practically nothing. Heavy winds against the roof surface cannot help but move and work a roof so supported. The result will be a completely unsound roof which will start to leak before very long.

This condition can be remedied without rebuilding the roof frame. And it can be done easily and economically by any home owner. The procedure is to cut triangular filler pieces of 2-by-4 stock to fit snugly in the space between the rafters and the inside edge of the plate. They are then spiked in place securely. These pieces should be cut accurately and be a tight fit. Once they are in place, it will be evident to anyone that they will brace the rafters and add tremendously to the strength of the entire roof structure.

It is estimated that the average small house could be so braced and strengthened in half a day by any home owner modestly adept in handling a hammer and a saw.

Steps Outlined For Correcting Of Loose Mortar

Question: I have reason to believe that rainwater is seeping through the rear wall of our brick house. I cannot see exactly where the water is making an entry, but there are many places where the mortar has loosened from between the bricks.

I have been reading about a liquid silicone product that waterproofs brick exteriors without changing the color of the bricks. Will an application of this liquid correct the trouble?

Answer: Silicones are effective in making masonry walls more water-repellent and will seal hairline cracks. But they will not substitute for mortar in filling joints that have begun to disintegrate.

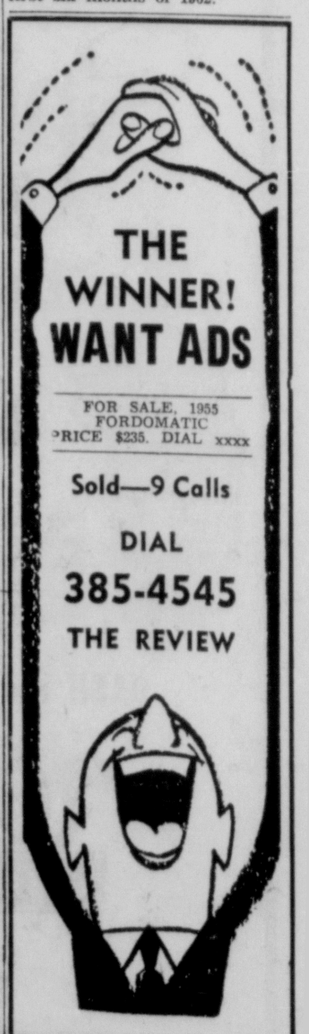

If you want an effective job, you will have to patch the joints first, then apply one of the silicone preparations.

Remove all loose mortar with an old screwdriver or a cold chisel and hammer. Soak the cavity and the surrounding area with water, then apply the mortar with a trowel. Be sure to pack it in firmly. Keep a damp cloth handy, so that you can quickly wipe off any mortar that gets on the face of the brick.

The patched joints should be wet down once or twice a day for several days to prevent the mortar from drying out too quickly. You can buy a mortar mix which requires only the addition of water.

Color Styling Of Adjacent Rooms

Achieving color harmony between rooms that open into each other is a problem that worries many do-it-yourself decorators, but the solution is actually very simple. In fact, there are a number of ways to handle this problem.

Simplest, of course, but also the least imaginative and timid, is to paint the walls of the two rooms the same color, using quality alkyd flat enamel or latex paint. Both types are odorless, quick drying (latex dries faster — half an hour, against several hours for alkyd) and easy to apply.

A MORE sophisticated solution is to use a lighter tint or darker shade of the color of the first room on the walls of the second.

If the living room is painted in a medium blue, for example, the dining room could be treated with a light blue. It is a good idea to repeat the dark blue of the first room in the second with such accent devices as draperies, vases, ash trays and other objects.

A third method would be to treat the two rooms as a single unit and to use what is known as a related color scheme that embraces three colors that are adjacent to each other on the familiar color wheel.

Blue - green, blue and blue-violet comprise such a color scheme. The first room could be done in blue-green and the second in blue-violet, lightened by the addition of white. The pure blue could be used as an accent color in the two rooms.

Another technique for tying adjacent rooms together is to use the wall color of the first room as a tint (the color plus white) on the ceiling of the second room. The walls of the second room could be a neutral such as white, light beige or light gray.

A complementary color scheme also can be used to solve this problem. The complementary colors, you'll recall, are red and green, orange and blue, yellow and violet.

You would not, of course, normally use these colors full strength on a surface as large as a wall except in a very spacious room. If the first room were done in a dusty pink, let us say, the second room could be a muted green. In each room, use the wall color of the other as an accent for fabrics, ceramics, or paintings.

NORMALLY, rooms that open into each other are unified by having the same carpeting in both rooms — wall to wall. But two rooms can be made to flow together by having their wood floors finished the same and covered with area rugs that pick up the color of the other room.

The pink living room could have a rug in a value of green that derives from the green of the second room, which, in turn, would have a rug in the red family that draws its inspiration from the wall color of the first room.

In choosing your color schemes, be guided by the fact that differences in light intensity in the two rooms and differences in the respective textures of fabrics and plaster will affect the final appearance of the colors. So don't be disappointed if the upholstery in other room looks somewhat different from the vase or wall in its neighbor.

Soblen Files New Bid To Gain Liberty

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Robert A. Soblen's attorneys go to Britain's high court again Tuesday for another legal attempt to save the fugitive spy from the life sentence waiting for him in the United States.

The lawyers for the 61-year-old psychiatrist said they would ask the court for Soblen's release on a writ of habeas corpus and challenge the order Home Secretary Henry Brooke issued Saturday for Soblen's deportation to the United States.

Brooke issued the deportation order after repeated frustration of British government attempts to send Soblen to New York by El Al, the Israeli government-owned airline which landed Soblen in Britain July 1. The Israeli government, under severe political pressure at home, said it would take Soblen out of Britain but it would only take him to Israel, not to the United States.

Soblen late in June jumped $100,000 bail in New York and fled to Israel on a dead brother's passport. The Israeli government expelled him and put him on an El Al plane bound for New York with a U.S. marshal aboard.

As the plane crossed Europe, Soblen slashed a wrist and stabbed himself in the abdomen to get himself landed in Britain.

The British high court and the Court of Appeals already have denied Soblen a writ of habeas corpus and upheld the government's contention that the doctor had no legal right to remain in Britain.

DiMaggio Says Last Farewell At Marilyn's Crypt

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Joe DiMaggio was among the hundreds of mourners who returned to Marilyn Monroe's crypt after the funeral to say a last farewell.

She was entombed last Wednesday at a cemetery in Westwood.

Guy R. Hockett, managing director of the Memorial Park, said DiMaggio, second of the blonde actress' three husbands, said his goodby last Friday.

"He came to the office to check over the flower cards and read the hundreds of telegrams," said Hockett.

"When he left the office there were about 18 or 20 persons in front of the crypt. 'I guess I can't say goodby now,' he said dejectedly.

"I told him to wait a moment. I walked over to the people and explained that Mr. DiMaggio wanted a moment or two alone at his former wife's crypt," said Hockett.

"The people were all very nice. They walked away and let Mr. DiMaggio have his moment alone in front of the crypt."

Hockett said the park was full of mourners Sunday with cars bumper to bumper, some who drove through and some who brought flowers — "people who care a little, people who loved and admired her."

$75,000 Blaze Burns New Bowling Building

Have Mildew Trouble? Here's How To End It

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Summertime means mildew troubles to many home owners.

The whitish mold grows on wood, leather, cloth, paper and dozens of other organic materials and occurs indoors and outdoors. Where conditions are damp and warm all or most of the time, mildew thrives.

While mildew can be washed off easily, sometimes with soap and water, sometimes with ordinary household chemicals, it will return again and again unless the conditions that caused it are eliminated.

It frequently shows itself in damp basements, crawl spaces, closets and dark corners, but often makes an appearance on outside portions of the house where sunlight never hits.

One home owner found mildew constantly forming on the side of the house in an area about 20 square feet. He discovered that shrubbery, planted close to the house at that point, was keeping out the sun.

As a result, the side of the house behind the shrubbery failed to dry out after a rainfall. He dug out the shrubbery and replanted it in a different location, not too close to the house. After the mildew was washed off, it never returned.

Where there is no such easy solution — and the product under attack can be painted — it is best to paint the surface with a mildew-proof paint. Years ago this was done by adding a mildew retardant to regular paint, but it now is possible to buy paint which contains what is called a mildewicide.

Before painting, it is important that all traces of the mildew be removed from the wood or other material.

In mild cases, soap and a little warm water will do the job. But for an effective result, it is better to use any of the household liquid cleaners which contain either sodium hypochlorite or trisodium phosphate.

There are half a dozen or more household cleaning products which have one of these chemicals in them. The labels will give you this information.

If the cleaner has sodium hypochlorite, mix one and a-half cups of it to a gallon of water. If it has trisodium phosphate, mix three heaping tablespoons of it to a gallon of water. In either case, brush or scrub on the solution, allow it to remain for five minutes and then rinse with clean water.

You can combat mildew if you remember the combination that causes it—dampness and warmth.

Blue - green, blue and blue-violet comprise such a color scheme. The first room could be done in blue-green and the second in blue-violet, lightened by the addition of white. The pure blue could be used as an accent color in the two rooms.

Another technique for tying adjacent rooms together is to use the wall color of the first room as a tint (the color plus white) on the ceiling of the second room. The walls of the second room could be a neutral such as white, light beige or light gray.

A complementary color scheme also can be used to solve this problem. The complementary colors, you'll recall, are red and green, orange and blue, yellow and violet.

You would not, of course, normally use these colors full strength on a surface as large as a wall except in a very spacious room. If the first room were done in a dusty pink, let us say, the second room could be a muted green. In each room, use the wall color of the other as an accent for fabrics, ceramics, or paintings.

NORMALLY, rooms that open into each other are unified by having the same carpeting in both rooms — wall to wall. But two rooms can be made to flow together by having their wood floors finished the same and covered with area rugs that pick up the color of the other room.

The pink living room could have a rug in a value of green that derives from the green of the second room, which, in turn, would have a rug in the red family that draws its inspiration from the wall color of the first room.

In choosing your color schemes, be guided by the fact that differences in light intensity in the two rooms and differences in the respective textures of fabrics and plaster will affect the final appearance of the colors. So don't be disappointed if the upholstery in other room looks somewhat different from the vase or wall in its neighbor.

Soblen Files New Bid To Gain Liberty

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Robert A. Soblen's attorneys go to Britain's high court again Tuesday for another legal attempt to save the fugitive spy from the life sentence waiting for him in the United States.

The lawyers for the 61-year-old psychiatrist said they would ask the court for Soblen's release on a writ of habeas corpus and challenge the order Home Secretary Henry Brooke issued Saturday for Soblen's deportation to the United States.

Brooke issued the deportation order after repeated frustration of British government attempts to send Soblen to New York by El Al, the Israeli government-owned airline which landed Soblen in Britain July 1. The Israeli government, under severe political pressure at home, said it would take Soblen out of Britain but it would only take him to Israel, not to the United States.

Soblen late in June jumped $100,000 bail in New York and fled to Israel on a dead brother's passport. The Israeli government expelled him and put him on an El Al plane bound for New York with a U.S. marshal aboard.

As the plane crossed Europe, Soblen slashed a wrist and stabbed himself in the abdomen to get himself landed in Britain.

The British high court and the Court of Appeals already have denied Soblen a writ of habeas corpus and upheld the government's contention that the doctor had no legal right to remain in Britain.

DiMaggio Says Last Farewell At Marilyn's Crypt

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Joe DiMaggio was among the hundreds of mourners who returned to Marilyn Monroe's crypt after the funeral to say a last farewell.

She was entombed last Wednesday at a cemetery in Westwood.

Guy R. Hockett, managing director of the Memorial Park, said DiMaggio, second of the blonde actress' three husbands, said his goodby last Friday.

"He came to the office to check over the flower cards and read the hundreds of telegrams," said Hockett.

"When he left the office there were about 18 or 20 persons in front of the crypt. 'I guess I can't say goodby now,' he said dejectedly.

"I told him to wait a moment. I walked over to the people and explained that Mr. DiMaggio wanted a moment or two alone at his former wife's crypt," said Hockett.

"The people were all very nice. They walked away and let Mr. DiMaggio have his moment alone in front of the crypt."

Hockett said the park was full of mourners Sunday with cars bumper to bumper, some who drove through and some who brought flowers — "people who care a little, people who loved and admired her."

Have Mildew Trouble? Here's How To End It

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Summertime means mildew troubles to many home owners.

The whitish mold grows on wood, leather, cloth, paper and dozens of other organic materials and occurs indoors and outdoors. Where conditions are damp and warm all or most of the time, mildew thrives.

While mildew can be washed off easily, sometimes with soap and water, sometimes with ordinary household chemicals, it will return again and again unless the conditions that caused it are eliminated.

It frequently shows itself in damp basements, crawl spaces, closets and dark corners, but often makes an appearance on outside portions of the house where sunlight never hits.

One home owner found mildew constantly forming on the side of the house in an area about 20 square feet. He discovered that shrubbery, planted close to the house at that point, was keeping out the sun.

As a result, the side of the house behind the shrubbery failed to dry out after a rainfall. He dug out the shrubbery and replanted it in a different location, not too close to the house. After the mildew was washed off, it never returned.

Where there is no such easy solution — and the product under attack can be painted — it is best to paint the surface with a mildew-proof paint. Years ago this was done by adding a mildew retardant to regular paint, but it now is possible to buy paint which contains what is called a mildewicide.

Before painting, it is important that all traces of the mildew be removed from the wood or other material.

In mild cases, soap and a little warm water will do the job. But for an effective result, it is better to use any of the household liquid cleaners which contain either sodium hypochlorite or trisodium phosphate.

There are half a dozen or more household cleaning products which have one of these chemicals in them. The labels will give you this information.

If the cleaner has sodium hypochlorite, mix one and a-half cups of it to a gallon of water. If it has trisodium phosphate, mix three heaping tablespoons of it to a gallon of water. In either case, brush or scrub on the solution, allow it to remain for five minutes and then rinse with clean water.

You can combat mildew if you remember the combination that causes it—dampness and warmth.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

The Gregarious Mr. Ross

Have you ever worked one of those gadgets for children which consists of a face cartooned on a board, a clear plastic shield, a mound of black iron filings, and a magnet?

Alan Gill

With the magnet you pull the filings over the face to create a he of hair, an eyebrow, a mustache, etc. Well, I'm convinced that the face of Joe E. Ross — the Officer Gunther Toody of "Car 54, Where Are You?" — was pulled together in just that fashion.

The waggling eyebrows are the obvious result of a magnetic law, a generous supply of filings and a shaky hand. The voice is the voice of a man gargling with detergent.

JOE E. calls himself a monologist (pronouncing it mon-OL-a-jist instead of MON-a-log-ist), but he's really a burlesque clown in the disguise of a policeman.

"Yah," he says, letting the detergent rattle in his throat. "I played the Hirst circuit four years, '39 to '42. Tommy (Moe) Taft a' me, we closed the old Star in Brooklyn.

"I was a cop in that, come t'think of it. It was a skit called 'Arrest Me,' an' I was a cop who refused to arrest this guy who wanted to sleep it off in a cell for the night."

Informed that his brass-buttoned partner on the show, Fred Gwynne, only a few minutes before had characterized himself as "scared to death of people" and Joe E. as "gregarious," Ross leaned forward, with a wide, curious smile on his mug. "Me? Gregarious? What's gregarious?"

-:-

WELL, YOU KNOW, he was told, you like people, you get along with them, you like to talk to them.

"Gregarious," he said. "Whaddya know! I guess I am. I like the kids. When we do the show in front of an audience to get the laughs, I do the warmup. You know.

"I leave out the dirt an' everything. I tell 'em about the lady who said to me, 'Your show I don't miss. I don't see it, so I don't miss it.' It gets a laugh.

"I live in a hotel right off Times Square. I like that stuff. I walk around. Over to Lindy's, the Stage Delicatessen. Lots happening. I used to have an apartment over on the East Side. It was like livin' in Bay City, Mich.

"YOU KNOW who likes us? Cops. You go to a precinct on a Sunday night and every cop in the neighborhood is watching — waddaya think, Ed Sullivan? Us! We're the first show to knock Sullivan off in 14 years. That first show was the wrong one an' we got lousy reviews. But then we hooked 'em, hooked 'em for good."

(A little earlier, Gwynne had been talking about their joint public appearances. "I had this idea of just sitting in the audience at 'The Ed Sullivan Show' for weeks on end, Joe E. and me. Each time the camera would rake over us, we'd put our hands together and wave.")

"Fred and me get along good," Joe E. said. "He's got two kids. I'm a bachelor. He went to Harvard. I never got through high school. I'm always takin' it up. He's shy. But he's a funny guy. He's always breakin' me up.

"THE NEW COMICS, they're all Alan King, with sports jackets and three buttons on 'em. I like 'em, but they're not actors. They don't have funny faces or funny voices. An' kids like funny faces. That's why 'Car 54' is goin' over: the kids. The kids like us."

Nat Hiken, the program's producer, director and guiding genius, entered the tiny commissary and sat at a nearby table.

"Hey," Ross whispered to me, "what's that word again?"

"Gregarious."

"Hey, Nat," he bellowed, "you know what Fred says I am? Gregarious. It's like I didn't like to talk to people! What's he pulling?"

He turned back to me.

"The only long word I knew up to now," he said, "was delicatessen."

Lone City Crash Damages 2 Cars

Two cars were damaged in a collision Sunday at 4:15 p. m. at Market St. and Drury Ln.—the lone traffic mishap reported over the weekend in East Liverpool.

The crash involved a 1957 two-door sedan driven by Alberta Williams, 57, of 317 Summit Ln. and a 1956 station wagon operated by Kenneth R. Carr, 29, of 917 St. George St., police said.

The woman driver said she was pulling onto Market St. from Drury Ln., headed west, when uphill traffic on the main thoroughfare halted to allow her to proceed. As she pulled into the traffic lane, there was a collision between her auto and Carr's, she said. The woman driver said she was blinded by the sun and did not see Carr's southbound vehicle until the collision.

The crash damaged the right front fender, wheel and hubcap of the Williams car and the left front fender, hood, grill, bumper and door of the Carr auto, police said.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Consistency Key To Proper Control

As I pointed out some while ago in this column, the National Academy of Pediatrics approves consistent selective spanking for teaching the young child to avoid specific known dangers. During all the years I have been writing this column I have not only approved but urged the use of physical pain to cultivate early safety habits in the youngster. However, you may hear or read from certain child guidance specialists that any kind of punishment may only arouse fear in the tot, implying that while punishment may deter the tot from running into the street, playing with matches or tampering with dangerous household gadgets, while the parent is with him, it won't train him to avoid such dangers when the parent or a capable substitute is not with him.

IF SUCH WERE true, practically all punishment would be futile, probably harmful.

But you and I know this is not true. From my notes and memories on our own children when they were very young, there are scores of instances in which physical pain administered consistently in connection with specific forbiddings in our presence did carry over in our absence.

Notes and memories of groups of our grandchildren while mere tots also confirm this principle. So have my further observations and the letters from ever so many parents over the years.

Several years ago, returning with an orange grower in California to his home, I observed his son, three, riding his tricycle on the sidewalk by his home. No one was supervising him.

"Won't he ride into the street?" I asked.

—:—

"NO," REPLIED the father. "When he was only two his mother and I in a few days trained him to stay off the street. We used the old-fashioned spank."

When one set of five of our grandchildren ranged in ages from two to nine, the family lived near a deep stream. The father stretched out on the ground a heavy rope near the border of the bank, making clear that no child ever should cross it.

None ever did. They had learned well in other situations that disobeying was always met with certain physical discomfort.

Even when they moved to another home, a rope laid across a dangerous open boundary of the lawn was respected by the younger children.

In addition to consistency of the parents, there was an understanding relationship between the parents and children.

Mere consistency is not enough to guarantee carry-over of control from one situation to another. There also must be a happy, understanding parent-child relationship. And this holds true as the children grow older.

—:—

IN ADDITION TO consistent controls there also must be mutual esteem and enjoyment between parents and children. Such are the principles of control of young children when they are not with their parents.

My bulletins, "Love and Restraint" and "First Steps in Training Tot in Safety," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Cleveland Voters Eye Proposed Tax Boost

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 1.9 mill real estate tax increase goes before the voters Tuesday in a special election for an added $5.4 million annually for operating expenses.

If the levy receives a majority of "yes" votes, the tax rate to finance normal operations will go from 12.55 mills to 14.45 mills. The city administration says the average homeowner would be billed an additional $10 a year for three years.

Defeat of the levy would lower the rate to 3.34 mills—the amount authorized in the city charter many years ago. The levy was defeated in May by 9,812 votes.

HE GREW HAIR

Before Treatment — A Few Months Later

Mr. T. A. Melton, Jr., of Hollidaysburg, Pa. (above) gave about 20 minutes of his time for an interview with a representative — saved and regrew his hair in only a few months with the exclusive home method. He did not have male pattern baldness.

EBB HAIR SPECIALISTS
Home Treatment System

Will be in East Liverpool, Ohio Tomorrow, Tuesday, Only

The Ebb Hair Specialists' Staff Director, J. C. Kell on his regularly scheduled visit will be at the Travelers Hotel, East Liverpool, Ohio, Tuesday, August 14. Every hair-worried person should take advantage of this great opportunity.

The Ebb method is known to many people all over the United States. You can have a conference with the Ebb representative regarding your hair and scalp problems at no cost to you whatsoever, learn how the scalp treatments work, and the results you can expect in a short period of time.

Results guaranteed by the Ebb organization. We don't ask you to take our word. You will be given a written guarantee from the beginning to end on a pro-rated basis.

Male pattern baldness is the cause of a great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss, for which neither the Ebb method nor any other method is effective, and the Ebb method will not help those who are slick bald after years of gradual hair loss.

If your scalp is still creating hair and you have dandruff, or excessive hair fall, excessive oiliness, dryness, or itchy scalp, you should take 20 minutes of your time to see what you can do.

Many have reported satisfactory results from the methods used by Ebb. Why burden yourself with unhealthy hair and scalp? Anyway it costs you nothing to come in and learn how many people have been helped by the years of Ebb experience plus the wonderful opportunity for help it offers. Just go to the Travelers Hotel in East Liverpool on Tuesday, August 14 only, between 1 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. Ask the Hotel Desk Clerk for J. C. Kell, he will do the rest.

Interviews are given in private. You will not be embarrassed in any way.

Mr. Kell will be in Youngstown, Ohio, Wednesday, August 15, at the Pick-Ohio Hotel.

Out Of The Air

The Gregarious Mr. Ross

Have you ever worked one of those gadgets for children which consists of a face cartooned on a board, a clear plastic shield, a mound of black iron filings, and a magnet?

Alan Gill

With the magnet you pull the filings over the face to create a he of hair, an eyebrow, a mustache, etc. Well, I'm convinced that the face of Joe E. Ross — the Officer Gunther Toody of "Car 54, Where Are You?" — was pulled together in just that fashion.

The waggling eyebrows are the obvious result of a magnetic law, a generous supply of filings and a shaky hand. The voice is the voice of a man gargling with detergent.

JOE E. calls himself a monologist (pronouncing it mon-OL-ajist instead of MON-a-log-ist), but he's really a burlesque clown in the disguise of a policeman.

"Yah," he says, letting the detergent rattle in his throat. "I played the Hirst circuit four years, '39 to '42. Tommy (Moe) Taft a' me, we closed the old Star in Brooklyn.

"I was a cop in that, come t'think of it. It was a skit called 'Arrest Me,' an' I was a cop who refused to arrest this guy who wanted to sleep it off in a cell for the night."

Informed that his brass-buttoned partner on the show, Fred Gwynne, only a few minutes before had characterized himself as "scared to death of people" and Joe E. as "gregarious," Ross leaned forward, with a wide, curious smile on his mug. "Me? Gregarious? What's gregarious?"

WELL, YOU KNOW, he was told, you like people, you get along with them, you like to talk to them.

"Gregarious," he said. "Whaddya know! I guess I am. I like the kids. When we do the show in front of an audience to get the laughs, I do the warmup. You know.

"I leave out the dirt an' everything. I tell 'em about the lady who said to me, 'Your show I don't miss. I don't see it, so I don't miss it.' It gets a laugh.

"I live in a hotel right off Times Square. I like that stuff. I walk around. Over to Lindy's, the Stage Delicatessen. Lots happening. I used to have an apartment over on the East Side. It was like livin' in Bay City, Mich.

"YOU KNOW who likes us? Cops. You go to a precinct on a Sunday night and every cop in the neighborhood is watching — waddaya think, Ed Sullivan? Us! We're the first show to knock Sullivan off in 14 years. That first show was the wrong one an' we got lousy reviews. But then we hooked 'em, hooked 'em for good."

(A little earlier, Gwynne had been talking about their joint public appearances. "I had this idea of just sitting in the audience at 'The Ed Sullivan Show' for weeks on end, Joe E. and me. Each time the camera would rake over us, we'd put our hands together and wave.")

"Fred and me get along good," Joe E. said. "He's got two kids. I'm a bachelor. He went to Harvard. I never got through high school. I'm always takin' it up. He's shy. But he's a funny guy. He's always breakin' me up.

"THE NEW COMICS, they're all Alan King, with sports jackets and three buttons on 'em. I like 'em, but they're not actors. They don't have funny faces or funny voices. An' kids like funny faces. That's why 'Car 54' is goin' over: the kids. The kids like us."

Nat Hiken, the program's producer, director and guiding genius, entered the tiny commissary and sat at a nearby table.

"Hey," Ross whispered to me, "what's that word again?"

"Gregarious."

"Hey, Nat," he bellowed, "you know what Fred says I am? Gregarious. It's like I didn't like to talk to people! What's he pulling?"

He turned back to me.

"The only long word I knew up to now," he said, "was delicatessen."

Lone City Crash Damages 2 Cars

Two cars were damaged in a collision Sunday at 4:15 p. m. at Market St. and Drury Ln.—the lone traffic mishap reported over the weekend in East Liverpool.

The crash involved a 1957 two-door sedan driven by Alberta Williams, 57, of 317 Summit Ln. and a 1956 station wagon operated by Kenneth R. Carr, 29, of 917 St. George St., police said.

The woman driver said she was pulling onto Market St. from Drury Ln., headed west, when uphill traffic on the main thoroughfare halted to allow her to proceed. As she pulled into the traffic lane, there was a collision between her auto and Carr's, she said. The woman driver said she was blinded by the sun and did not see Carr's southbound vehicle until the collision.

The crash damaged the right front fender, wheel and hubcap of the Williams car and the left front fender, hood, grill, bumper and door of the Carr auto, police said.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Consistency Key To Proper Control

As I pointed out some while ago in this column, the National Academy of Pediatrics approves consistent selective spanking for teaching the young child to avoid specific known dangers. During all the years I have been writing this column I have not only approved but urged the use of physical pain to cultivate early safety habits in the youngster. However, you may hear or read from certain child guidance specialists that any kind of punishment may only arouse fear in the tot, implying that while punishment may deter the tot from running into the street, playing with matches or tampering with dangerous household gadgets, while the parent is with him, it won't train him to avoid such dangers when the parent or a capable substitute is not with him.

IF SUCH WERE true, practically all punishment would be futile, probably harmful.

But you and I know this is not true. From my notes and memories on our own children when they were very young, there are scores of instances in which physical pain administered consistently in connection with specific forbiddings in our presence did carry over in our absence.

Notes and memories of groups of our grandchildren while mere tots also confirm this principle. So have my further observations and the letters from ever so many parents over the years.

Several years ago, returning with an orange grower in California to his home, I observed his son, three, riding his tricycle on the sidewalk by his home. No one was supervising him.

"Won't he ride into the street?" I asked.

—:—

"NO," REPLIED the father. "When he was only two his mother and I in a few days trained him to stay off the street. We used the old-fashioned spank."

When one set of five of our grandchildren ranged in ages from two to nine, the family lived near a deep stream. The father stretched out on the ground a heavy rope near the border of the bank, making clear that no child ever should cross it.

None ever did. They had learned well in other situations that disobeying was always met with certain physical discomfort.

Even when they moved to another home, a rope laid across a dangerous open boundary of the lawn was respected by the younger children.

In addition to consistency of the parents, there was an understanding relationship between the parents and children.

Mere consistency is not enough to guarantee carry-over of control from one situation to another. There also must be a happy, understanding parent-child relationship. And this holds true as the children grow older.

—:—

IN ADDITION TO consistent controls there also must be mutual esteem and enjoyment between parents and children. Such are the principles of control of young children when they are not with their parents.

My bulletins, "Love and Restraint" and "First Steps in Training Tot in Safety," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

People In News

By The Associated Press

The Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger, presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, has appealed to Episcopalians to pray for the success of the second Vatican Council.

In a special statement, the bishop asked his constituents to pray regularly and often for the Roman Catholic session which begins in Rome Oct. 11. Many Protestant denominations will send official observers.

Dr. Leslie Weatherhead, a former president of the Methodist Conference, says in London that he would like to censor the Bible with a blue pencil. In an interview, he said his main target would be the "completely outmoded" Old Testament.

Cleveland Voters Eye Proposed Tax Boost

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 1.9 mill real estate tax increase goes before the voters Tuesday in a special election for an added $5.4 million annually for operating expenses.

If the levy receives a majority of "yes" votes, the tax rate to finance normal operations will go from 12.55 mills to 14.45 mills. The city administration says the average homeowner would be billed an additional $10 a year for three years.

Defeat of the levy would lower the rate to 3.34 mills—the amount authorized in the city charter many years ago. The levy was defeated in May by 9,812 votes.

HE GREW HAIR

Before Treatment — A Few Months Later

Mr. T. A. Melton, Jr., of Hollidaysburg, Pa. (above) gave about 20 minutes of his time for an interview with a representative — saved and regrew his hair in only a few months with the exclusive home method. He did not have male pattern baldness.

EBB HAIR SPECIALISTS
Home Treatment System

Will be in East Liverpool, Ohio Tomorrow, Tuesday, Only

The Ebb Hair Specialists' Staff Director, J. C. Kell on his regularly scheduled visit will be at the Travelers Hotel, East Liverpool, Ohio, Tuesday, August 14. Every hair-worried person should take advantage of this great opportunity.

The Ebb method is known to many people all over the United States. You can have a conference with the Ebb representative regarding your hair and scalp problems at no cost to you whatsoever, learn how the scalp treatments work, and the results you can expect in a short period of time.

Results guaranteed by the Ebb organization. We don't ask you to take our word. You will be given a written guarantee from the beginning to end on a pro-rated basis.

Male pattern baldness is the cause of a great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss, for which neither the Ebb method nor any other method is effective, and the Ebb method will not help those who are slick bald after years of gradual hair loss.

If your scalp is still creating hair and you have dandruff, or excessive hair fall, excessive oiliness, dryness, or itchy scalp, you should take 20 minutes of your time to see what you can do.

Many have reported satisfactory results from the methods used by Ebb. Why burden yourself with unhealthy hair and scalp? Anyway it costs you nothing to come in and learn how many people have been helped by the years of Ebb experience plus the wonderful opportunity for help it offers. Just go to the Travelers Hotel in East Liverpool on Tuesday, August 14 only, between 1 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. Ask the Hotel Desk Clerk for J. C. Kell, he will do the rest.

Interviews are given in private. You will not be embarrassed in any way.

Mr. Kell will be in Youngstown, Ohio, Wednesday, August 15, at the Pick-Ohio Hotel.

Mackall Hits Postal Hike

William R. Mackall, secretary-treasurer of the National Church Supply Co. at Chester, testified against a proposed increase in postal rates last week before the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

The Chester firm produces church offering envelopes. Mackall asserted that an increase in postage rates "will necessarily have to be passed on to the churches we service."

"If, for instance, our postage bill were increased 30 per cent, we would have to pass on to our customers additional costs of approximately $15,000," he said.

The firm's official pointed out that the company boosted its printing facilities from three machines to 14 in 1954. Because of expansion in the firm's operations — and its increasing expenditures for postage — Chester's post office has been boosted from fourth class to first class, he said.

He pointed out National Church Supply was founded in 1915 and now employs approximately 150 people in what has been termed a "depressed area" of West Virginia. The bi-weekly payroll is $17,000 and the bill for postage in 1961 was $58,050, Mackall said. The company expects to continue its steady expansion through 1962, he added.

Following Mackall's statement, Sen. Jennings Randolph of West Virginia commended him for "a significant statement."

"I commend you for the clear and concise manner in which you have presented the problem as it affects your company," he said. "Please know that your firm, in our opinion, is a valuable industry in West Virginia."

Hearing Planned In Parking Case

A hearing is scheduled Tuesday at 9 a. m. in Municipal Court for a Fisher Park resident accused of failing to settle a year-old parking ticket.

Charles E. Beatty of N. Surrey Rd. pleaded innocent this morning and the case was continued to permit Mrs. Catherine Martin, city "Meter Maid" to appear. His bond was set at $25.

In her affidavit, she accused Beatty of failing to pay for a ticket issued Aug. 4, 1961, on Market St. Beatty also has five other outstanding tickets, the affidavit showed.

Two area motorists were fined $10 and costs each but the fines were suspended on payment of costs.

Donald Menear, 22, of R. D. 1 was cited by police Saturday night on Dresden Ave. for an illegal muffler while Harold W. Joy of Wellsville R. D. 1 was cited Friday night on Route 39 by the State Highway Patrol for driving without a muffler.

Drill Teams' Contest Now Set Wednesday

Another change was announced today in the marching drill squad competition at the National VFW convention which opened Sunday at St. Paul, Minn.

The final round of competition now has been set for Wednesday morning. The squad from Wellsville VFW Post 9285 is entered. The unit already holds the state championship.

Originally, the competition was planned Tuesday. Late last week members of the Wellsville squad were notified the event had been changed to today. The team then left for St. Paul a day earlier than anticipated. The 14-man squad is headed by Kenneth Carter, president. It is being sponsored by private contributions, Tag Day proceeds and prize money from area parades.

Corn, Tomatoes And Apples Seen Plentiful, Low Priced

Sweet corn, tomatoes, apples and peaches lead the parade of locally - grown fruits and vegetables which are in good supply and reasonably priced, according to Richard W. Skinner, market information agent with the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield.

Sweet corn is being harvested from local fields. Most of the local sweet corn is sold the same day it is picked by the farmer. To insure freshness, look for corn that has been iced. The presence of moisture on the part that was snapped from the stalk is also an indication of freshness. The husks also are green and moist on fresh corn. The less time it takes to get the corn from the field to the kettle, the better the flavor. Corn is probably the lowest it will be, as we are in the peak of the season.

Tomatoes are beginning to ripen in volume. It will soon be time to get tomatoes for canning and juice. However, there will be a good supply of tomatoes until the first frost, which should be almost two months away. Firm, ripe tomatoes are ones which are well reddened but not at full ripeness. Stores that can obtain fruit directly from nearby growers use firm-ripe fruit.

The summer apples that are now on the markets are especially good for cooking. Many of the summer apples are tart — so they make fine flavored sauce, pie or tarts. The summer apples do not keep long in home kitchens. It's best to buy only as many as you will use within a week. If your family enjoys tangy homemade apple sauce, this is the time to cook a batch for freezing or canning.

The Duchess apple is common on area markets now. It is a pale yellow or greenish-yellow skin covered with irregular splotches and stripes of bright red. They also have a tart flavor and are good for sauce and pies.

They will be available for another couple of weeks or more. Wealthy apples will be on local markets within the next three weeks. It is bright red when fully colored, marked with splashes of red over a greenish skin. It, too, is good for pies and sauce.

We are presently in the peak of the local peach season. The peaches most common on the market now are Red Haven and Golden Jubilee. Both varieties are excellent for freezing and canning.

Red Haven is considered to be a better peach for fresh use than Golden Jubilees. Hale Haven is the next common variety to ripen and is considered an excellent all-purpose peach.

Other vegetables that shoppers will find in good supply include cabbage, carrots, cucumbers, onions, potatoes, summer squash and lettuce.

Mackall Hits Postal Hike

William R. Mackall, secretary-treasurer of the National Church Supply Co. at Chester, testified against a proposed increase in postal rates last week before the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

The Chester firm produces church offering envelopes. Mackall asserted that an increase in postage rates "will necessarily have to be passed on to the churches we service."

"If, for instance, our postage bill were increased 30 per cent, we would have to pass on to our customers additional costs of approximately $15,000," he said.

The firm's official pointed out that the company boosted its printing facilities from three machines to 14 in 1954. Because of expansion in the firm's operations — and its increasing expenditures for postage — Chester's post office has been boosted from fourth class to first class, he said.

The bi-weekly payroll is $17,000 and the bill for postage in 1961 was $58,050, Mackall said. The company expects to continue its steady expansion through 1962, he added.

Following Mackall's statement, Sen. Jennings Randolph of West Virginia commended him for "a significant statement."

"I commend you for the clear and concise manner in which you have presented the problem as it affects your company," he said. "Please know that your firm, in our opinion, is a valuable industry in West Virginia."

Pittsburgher Wins Third Annual Local Tennis Tourney

Ray Bender Nips Welcher In Park Play

A 24-year-old Pittsburgher—Ray Bender—was crowned men's singles champion in the third annual Lions Club-sponsored tennis tournament Sunday at Thompson Park.

Bender, a graduate of Notre Dame University, came from behind to win over Jollis (Chic) Welcher, 34, of Youngstown, 4-6, 6-1 and 6-3.

A market researcher for Westinghouse, Bender, an aggressive player, had trouble in the first set with Welcher's steady, easy-flowing style of game, but battled back in the next two to win.

Bender succeeds Joe Brown of Pittsburgh as the champ here. Brown, meanwhile, was defeated yesterday at South Park by Bob Bennett III for the Allegheny County tennis title, 3-6, 7-5 and 6-3.

New doubles champs also emerged from the tourney which began Friday, with Bob Thompson, 39, and Ed Dupay, 37, of Youngstown defeating the defending champions, Ray (Cookie) Vens, 28, of Warren and John Boliver, 36, of Greenville, Pa., in three sets, 10-8, 4-6 and 6-3.

To reach the finals, Thompson and Dupay defeated Glen Barker, 40, and Leon Yarnell, 37, of New Philadelphia in a 2½-hour marathon, 20-18 and 7-5—the longest match played on the park courts.

There were 16 doubles teams entered and 15 matches played, Laurin Stacey, tourney chairman, said.

Stacey termed the tourney "equally successful" as last year's, with a strong field of competitors and evenly played matches. Spectator interest also was greater this year, he said.

Welcher had been accorded the top-seeded singles player role, but was upset by Bender, who recently moved to Pittsburgh from North Carolina.

Dinardo Amedeo of Sharon, the 1960 singles champion, lost in the semi-finals to Bender.

Here are the singles results of Saturday and Sunday: First round — Yarnell over Winters, 7-5, 6-2; Mathieson over Warrick by default; Barker over Rogers by default; Longauer over Boliver, 3-6, 6-3, 8-6; Vens over Fleischer, 6-4, 6-1; Bender over Young, 6-0, 6-4; O'Laughlin over Strain, 6-2, 6-1; Deitch over Goldberg by default; Dinardo over Eichenlaub, 9-7, 6-1.

Second round — Welcher over Yarnell, 6-1, 6-0; Barth over Mathieson, 6-3, 6-3; Barker over Glaser, 6-3, 6-1; Longauer over Evans, 6-2, 6-2; Dupay over Kapp, 6-0, 6-0; Bender over Vens, 6-3, 8-6; O'Laughlin over Jarvis, 6-2, 6-1, and Dinardo over Deitch, 6-1, 6-2.

Quarter-finals — Welcher over Barth, 6-1, 6-4; Barker over Longauer, 6-4, 6-2; Bender over Dupay, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1, and Dinardo over O'Laughlin, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5.

Semi-finals — Welcher over Barker, 6-4, 6-4; Bender over Dinardo, 6-3, 6-2; Finals — Bender over Welcher, 4-6; 6-1, and 6-3.

Here are the doubles results of Saturday and Sunday: First round —Vens-Boliver over E. Morris - Longauer, 6-3, 3-6, 8-6; O'Laughlin - Glaser over Eichenlaub - Fleischer, 6-2, 7-5.

Deitch-Hunter over Mathieson-Winter, 6-3, 6-4; Morris-Barth over Turner-Strain, 6-2, 6-1; Thompson-Dupay over Bender-Ruzanic, 6-3, 6-2; Evans-Tasi over Stacey-Leigh, 7-5, 6-1; Welcher-Dinardo over Decort- R. Hunter, 6-1, 6-1, and Barker-Yarnell over Young-Kapp, 6-1. 6-4.

Quarter-finals — Vens-Boliver over O'Laughlin - Glaser, 6-2, 6-3; Morris-Barth over Deitch-D. Hunter, 3-6, default; Thompson-Dupay over Evans-Tasi, 6-1, 6-2; Barker-Yarnell over Welcher - Dinardo, 6-3, 6-4.

Semi-finals — Vens-Boliver over Morris-Barth, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, and Thompson-Dupay over Barker-Yarnell, 20-18, 7-5; Finals—Thompson-Dupay over Vens - Boliver, 10-8, 4-6, 6-3.

NEW DOUBLES CHAMPS. E. P. Dupay and Bob Thompson, right, emerged as new doubles champs in defeating the top-seeded duo of John Boliver and Ray Vens, left, in the finals of the Lion's Club tennis tournament Sunday at Thompson Park. Thompson, 39, and Dupay, 37, bested the defending champs in three sets of 10—8, 4—6, and 6—3.

Yanks Batter Swim Marks

CUYAHOGA FALLS, Ohio (AP) — West German and Japanese swimmers, stunned by a crew of record-happy Americans in the AAU Nationals, may get more surprises at the three-way international meet this weekend in Chicago.

The foreign aquatic aces, who failed to capture a single event in the three-day National Men's Outdoor championships which ended Sunday, saw the U.S. swimmers better five listed world records and equal a sixth. In two other events, American records were set.

But U.S. swimmers and coaches agreed with Dr. Harold Henning, chairman of the AAU's swimming committee, that conditions were not the best at the 50-meter Waterworks pool.

Noting the Chicago meet pool offered a faster course, Dr. Henning predicted: "If the weather continues good, I think you'll see some new records."

The foreign guests could have it easier at Chicago, however, because of the absence of three Americans who were standouts here.

Ted Stickles has a bone chip and pulled tendons in his left elbow, and his arm goes into a cast today.

Despite the bad elbow, Stickles bettered the listed world record in the 400-meter individual medley and won the 200-meter individual medley.

Carl Robie, Philadelphia high school boy who bettered the 200-meter butterfly world record, said he was too worn out to compete, and the same news came from Indian's Chet Jastremski, who captured the 100-meter and 200-meter breaststroke.

Tom Stock of Indiana, who lowered world standards for the 100-meter and 200-meter backstroke, said he will be at Chicago, but because of the inevitable let down after "the big one" he is not optimistic about his prospects.

Olympic veteran Murray Rose is an Australian, although he swam under the Los Angeles Athletic Club's colors here, and he will not be on the U.S. team at Chicago.

Columbiana Takes Crown In 8-5 Win

Columbiana Merchants won the County - City Baseball League championship with an 8-5 triumph over East Liverpool Merchants in the league playoff Sunday at East Palestine.

The second straight playoff win over East Liverpool qualified Columbiana for the American Baseball Congress non-pro tournament at Warren Saturday at 4 p. m.

Manager John Andrason's locals had lost the opening playoff game to the same team, 4-0, on Friday.

In Sunday's game, the score was tied at 2-2 in the third inning and Columbiana sailed far ahead on a four-run error by Hobbs, left fielder for the locals.

Gallagher went four innings for Columbiana, giving up four runs on four hits, and Sloan came on in relief to hold East Liverpool to one more run. Sloan had blanked the city nine on Friday with a five-hitter.

Sayre started for East Liverpool, going three innings. He gave up six runs on six hits. Prentice followed, yielding two runs on five hits.

East Liverpool showed a seven-hit attack, with Hobbs and D. Prentice striking home runs. Schultz had a homer for Columbiana.

You might say the Dodgers spent a lost weekend with the beats in San Francisco.

Thanks to Felipe Alou and friends, the San Francisco Giants have saved the National League pennant race. A three-straight sweep over Los Angeles has slashed a fat 5½ game lead to a mere 2½ games.

Instead of an early knockout in mid-August, the Dodgers may have to fight it out right down to the wire. Al Dark, manager of the Giants, said he needed to win five of seven from the Dodgers to have a chance. He already has won three.

The three straight were accomplished with Felipe Alou getting eight hits and scoring seven runs in 12 at bats, boosting his average 10 points to .328. In the Dodgers series he batted .667. Willie Mays, a pigeon for Dodger pitching in earlier games, awoke with four hits and five runs scored in 10 trips.

Tommy Davis and Frank Howard, who ruined the Giants in Los Angeles in late July were kept under control. Tommy had three for 12 and Howard managed only two hits in 11 at bats in three games. However Davis took over the league batting lead at .345.

Juan Marichal turned back the Dodgers with four hits Sunday while the Giants won 5-1. Alou had three singles among the 10 hits off loser Stan Williams and Larry Sherry.

Cincinnati's surge, interrupted last weekend by the New York Mets, has been renewed. The Reds have won eight in a row, climbing within seven games of the Dodgers. They made Freddy Hutchinson's 43rd birthday a happy one Sunday with an 8-4 victory Lee Cardenas and Wally Post hit home runs.

Pittsburgh outlasted Chicago 5-4 in the finale of their long series. The three games consumed nine hours and 53 minutes with respective times of 3:12, 3:09 and 3:32. Bob Skinner hit his 15th and 16th homer on successive at bats to win for relief man Jack Lamabe over Don Elston.

Johnny Callison drove in seven runs to lead the Philadelphia Phillies in a doubleheader sweep over St. Louis 7-3 and 9-7. Callison's two-run triple in the first game was an important blow. He won the second game with a three-run homer in the eighth.

Houston broke its seven-game losing streak by beating Milwaukee 8-5 in 105-degree temperature although the Braves scored two in the ninth and had the bases loaded when the final out was made. Bob Bruce was the winner over Lew Burdette.

Pittsburgh trailed 4-3 in the seventh when Skinner hit his second homer, following Dick Groat's single.

Roger Maris isn't going to hit 61 home runs this season. He may not even hit .269. He did both last season.

Right now Roger is hitting .254, which is a very good average for most pitchers. It isn't so hot for one of baseball's highest paid hitting stars.

The New York Yankees gave the green-eyed, blond slugger a $70,000 contract this season well knowing he wasn't going to hit 61 homers, but full of high hopes he might improve his batting average.

He's done neither, but still may be worth the money.

Over the weekend Maris either scored or drove in every Yankee run in three games.

New York edged Detroit 2-0 Sunday. Roger drove in the first one and scored the second. That, along with the five-hit pitching of Bill Stafford (10-7), was all it took.

The victory, plus Minnesota's 5-3 conquest of second place Los Angeles, gave the Yanks a 5½ game edge as they started a two-week road trip. Chicago edged Kansas City 1-0, Boston beat Baltimore 4-1 and Cleveland defeated Washington 5-3 in the other American league action.

Maris, departing from his hit-'em-out theory of 1961, used most of the weapons in a hitter's arsenal in his weekend performance. In the first game of a doubleheader Saturday, won by Detroit 7-2, Roger drove in one run with a single, the other with a sacrifice squeeze bunt.

Bob Allison drove in two runs and scored two himself in leading the Twins to the triumph over the Los Angeles. It pulled Minnesota to within one game of the second-place Angeles. The Twins, helped by two Angel errors, had built a 5-0 lead for lefty Dick Stigman (7-3) when Felix Torres' eighth-inning homer accounted for all the Los Angeles runs.

Jim Landis' 15th homer accounted for the only run in Chicago's fourth straight victory and eighth in 10 starts. The six-hit pitching of Ray Herbert (12-7), who left after walking two men in the eighth, and Juan Pizarro shut out Kansas City.

Pittsburgher Wins Third Annual Local Tennis Tourney

Ray Bender Nips Welcher In Park Play

A 24-year-old Pittsburgher—Ray Bender—was crowned men's singles champion in the third annual Lions Club-sponsored tennis tournament Sunday at Thompson Park.

Bender, a graduate of Notre Dame University, came from behind to win over Jollis (Chic) Welcher, 34, of Youngstown, 4-6, 6-1 and 6-3.

A market researcher for Westinghouse, Bender, an aggressive player, had trouble in the first set with Welcher's steady, easy-flowing style of game, but battled back in the next two to win.

Bender succeeds Joe Brown of Pittsburgh as the champ here. Brown, meanwhile, was defeated yesterday at South Park by Bob Bennett III for the Allegheny County tennis title, 3-6, 7-5 and 6-3.

New doubles champs also emerged from the tourney which began Friday, with Bob Thompson, 39, and Ed Dupay, 37, of Youngstown defeating the defending champions, Ray (Cookie) Vens, 28, of Warren and John Boliver, 36, of Greenville, Pa., in three sets, 10-8, 4-6 and 6-3.

To reach the finals, Thompson and Dupay defeated Glen Barker, 40, and Leon Yarnell, 37, of New Philadelphia in a 2½-hour marathon, 20-18 and 7-5—the longest match played on the park courts.

There were 16 doubles teams entered and 15 matches played, Laurin Stacey, tourney chairman, said.

Stacey termed the tourney "equally successful" as last year's, with a strong field of competitors and evenly played matches. Spectator interest also was greater this year, he said.

Welcher had been accorded the top-seeded singles player role, but was upset by Bender, who recently moved to Pittsburgh from North Carolina.

The new doubles champs, Dupay and Thompson, also bumped the top-seeded doubles entry of Vens and Boliver.

Dinardo Amedeo of Sharon, the 1960 singles champion, lost in the semi-finals to Bender.

Here are the singles results of Saturday and Sunday: First round — Yarnell over Winters, 7-5, 6-2; Mathieson over Warrick by default; Barker over Rogers by default; Longauer over Boliver, 3-6, 6-3, 8-6; Vens over Fleischer, 6-4, 6-1; Bender over Young, 6-0, 6-4; O'Laughlin over Strain, 6-2, 6-1; Deitch over Goldberg by default; Dinardo over Eichenlaub, 9-7, 6-1.

Second round — Welcher over Yarnell, 6-1, 6-0; Barth over Mathieson, 6-3, 6-3; Barker over Glaser, 6-3, 6-1; Longauer over Evans, 6-2, 6-2; Dupay over Kapp, 6-0, 6-0; Bender over Vens, 6-3, 8-6; O'Laughlin over Jarvis, 6-2, 6-1, and Dinardo over Deitch, 6-1, 6-2.

Quarter-finals — Welcher over Barth, 6-1, 6-4; Barker over Longauer, 6-4, 6-2; Bender over Dupay, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1, and Dinardo over O'Laughlin, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5.

Semi-finals — Welcher over Barker, 6-4, 6-4; Bender over Dinardo, 6-3, 6-2; Finals — Bender over Welcher, 4-6; 6-1, and 6-3.

Here are the doubles results of Saturday and Sunday: First round —Vens-Boliver over E. Morris - Longauer, 6-3, 3-6, 8-6; O'Laughlin - Glaser over Eichenlaub - Fleischer, 6-2, 7-5.

Deitch-Hunter over Mathieson-Winter, 6-3, 6-4; Morris-Barth over Turner-Strain, 6-2, 6-1; Thompson-Dupay over Bender-Ruzanic, 6-3, 6-2; Evans-Tasi over Stacey-Leigh, 7-5, 6-1; Welcher-Dinardo over Decort- R. Hunter, 6-1, 6-1, and Barker-Yarnell over Young-Kapp, 6-1, 6-4.

Quarter-finals — Vens-Boliver over O'Laughlin - Glaser, 6-2, 6-3; Morris-Barth over Deitch-D. Hunter, 3-6, default; Thompson-Dupay over Evans-Tasi, 6-1, 6-2; Barker-Yarnell over Welcher - Dinardo, 6-3, 6-4.

NEW DOUBLES CHAMPS. E. P. Dupay and Bob Thompson, right, emerged as new doubles champs in defeating the top-seeded duo of John Boliver and Ray Vens, left, in the finals of the Lion's Club tennis tournament Sunday at Thompson Park. ## Yanks Batter Swim Marks

CUYAHOGA FALLS, Ohio (AP) — West German and Japanese swimmers, stunned by a crew of record-happy Americans in the AAU Nationals, may get more surprises at the three-way international meet this weekend in Chicago.

The foreign aquatic aces, who failed to capture a single event in the three-day National Men's Outdoor championships which ended Sunday, saw the U.S. swimmers better five listed world records and equal a sixth. In two other events, American records were set.

But U.S. swimmers and coaches agreed with Dr. Harold Henning, chairman of the AAU's swimming committee, that conditions were not the best at the 50-meter Waterworks pool.

Noting the Chicago meet pool offered a faster course, Dr. Henning predicted: "If the weather continues good, I think you'll see some new records."

The foreign guests could have it easier at Chicago, however, because of the absence of three Americans who were standouts here.

Ted Stickles has a bone chip and pulled tendons in his left elbow, and his arm goes into a cast today.

Despite the bad elbow, Stickles bettered the listed world record in the 400-meter individual medley and won the 200-meter individual medley.

Carl Robie, Philadelphia high school boy who bettered the 200-meter butterfly world record, said he was too worn out to compete, and the same news came from Indian's Chet Jastremski, who captured the 100-meter and 200-meter breaststroke.

Tom Stock of Indiana, who lowered world standards for the 100-meter and 200-meter backstroke, said he will be at Chicago, but because of the inevitable let down after "the big one" he is not optimistic about his prospects.

Olympic veteran Murray Rose is an Australian, although he swam under the Los Angeles Athletic Club's colors here, and he will not be on the U.S. team at Chicago.

Columbiana Takes Crown In 8-5 Win

Columbiana Merchants won the County - City Baseball League championship with an 8-5 triumph over East Liverpool Merchants in the league playoff Sunday at East Palestine.

The second straight playoff win over East Liverpool qualified Columbiana for the American Baseball Congress non-pro tournament at Warren Saturday at 4 p. m.

Manager John Andrason's locals had lost the opening playoff game to the same team, 4-0, on Friday.

In Sunday's game, the score was tied at 2-2 in the third inning and Columbiana sailed far ahead on a four-run error by Hobbs, left fielder for the locals.

Gallagher went four innings for Columbiana, giving up four runs on four hits, and Sloan came on in relief to hold East Liverpool to one more run. Sloan had blanked the city nine on Friday with a five-hitter.

Sayre started for East Liverpool, going three innings. He gave up six runs on six hits. Prentice followed, yielding two runs on five hits.

East Liverpool showed a seven-hit attack, with Hobbs and D. Prentice striking home runs. Schultz had a homer for Columbiana.

Palmer Does It Again, Wins By 5 In Akron Play

Arnie Also Surpasses His Own Money Mark

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the great one, came to the American Golf Classic with two goals in mind and achieved them both.

First, Palmer wanted to master the treacherous 7,165-yard Firestone layout with its monstrous No. 16 hole, which measures 625 yards. Then he wanted to win enough money to surpass his own earnings record, established in 1960.

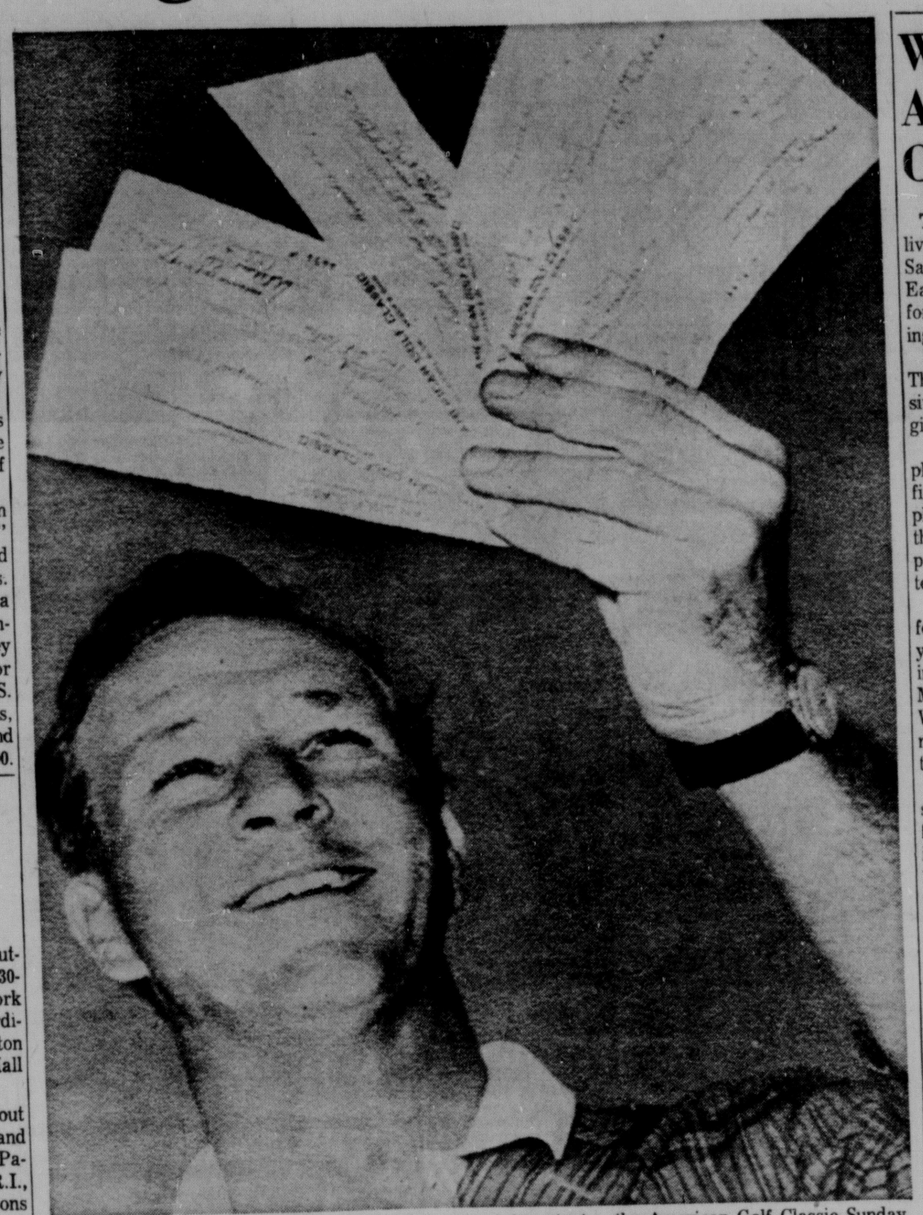

The Pennsylvania pounder, whose galleries resemble Ghengis Khan's hordes, put together four magnificent rounds of 67-69-70-70 for a 276 total, four strokes under Firestone's par 35-35—70, to win top money of $9,000.

He finished five strokes ahead of the field to boost his total earnings to $80,198, surpassing the mark of $75,262 he established two years ago. It was his eighth tournament triumph this year. Palmer, 32, now has a career total of 36 victories.

No. 16, which cost Palmer the PGA victory in 1960, was humbled this time. In each and every round, Palmer scored a birdie.

"I played it differently this time," said Palmer. "But despite four birdies, I still have a lot of respect for that monster."

Palmer, who will forgo action until the "World Series of Golf" at Firestone next month, defeated Mason Rudolph by five strokes. Rudolph, putting together a 31-35—66 in the final round, finished with a 281 for second money of $4,600. Finishing in a tie for third place with 284s were U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus, Don January, Al Geiberger and Billy Maxwell—all earning $2,500.

ARNOLD PALMER holds five checks he received for winning the American Golf Classic Sunday at the Firestone Country Club at Akron. The victory enabled Palmer to set a money winning record, running his total for the year to $80,198. Palmer won the checks by means of a bonus system established for the tournament. (UPI Telephoto)

Browns Edge Detroit; Steelers Beat Bears

By The Associated Press

After the Green Bay Packers crushed the College All-Stars 42-20 with three last quarter scores, Packer ace Paul Hornung gave it as his opinion that a good pro team would have beaten the NFL champs "by five touchdowns."

If that is so, the Packers have improved by eight touchdowns and a field goal in only a week. That cannot be happy news to the other 13 NFL clubs.

In the American Football League things looked familiar today, too. The Houston Oilers, twice champions, and the San Diego Chargers, twice runners-up, both looked powerful.

All 14 NFL clubs and all eight AFL entries played weekend exhibitions. It was the kickoff for all the NFL clubs except the Packers, and for half the AFL teams.

The Packers toppled the Dallas Cowboys at Dallas 31-7 and the Oilers whipped Denver 33-17 at Atlanta Friday night. Houston quarterback George Blanda, reduced to kicking chores by a thyroid operation, kicked four field goals and three points after touchdown.

In NFL Saturday action, the Los Angeles Rams smothered the Washington Redskins 37-7 at Los Angeles, Cleveland took the Detroit Lions 17-14 at Detroit, Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Bears 19-14 at Atlanta, San Francisco outscored the Minnesota Vikings 30-24 at Seattle and the New York Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals played a 21-21 tie at Canton Ohio in pro football's first Hall of Fame game.

In the AFL, San Diego shut out Dallas 17-0 at San Diego, and Oakland tripped the Boston Patriots 21-20 at Providence, R.I., Saturday. The Buffalo Bisons handed the New York Titans their second exhibition loss 20-10 at New Haven, Conn., Sunday.

Johnny Unitas looked to be back in peak form, after being handicapped last season by an injured finger on his throwing hand, as he passed for two Colt touchdowns and scored another. For the Eagles, Sonny Jurgensen showed no effects of the shoulder separation he suffered in January's runner-up bowl game.

In a battle of traded quarterbacks, Jim Ninowski of the Browns passed for two touchdowns against his old Detroit mates, now handled by ex-Brown Milt Plum. A field goal by Lou Groza was the difference.

Another quarterback at a new address, Ed Brown, moved the Steelers well against his old Bear team, with two field goals by Lou Michaels, one for 48 yards, providing the margin.

Riverview Wins Crown In Colt League Playoffs

Riverview Florists reigned today as the first champion of the Colt League following a 6-4 victory over the Lawyers in the deciding playoff game Sunday at Colt Field.

The Florists, second-half league champs, collected two major awards at the conclusion of the game, and each member of the team received an individual trophy.

Bo Agnew, Riverview's all-around performer — pitcher, shortstop and third sacker—was named Most Valuable Player. A teammate, Jim Johnson, received an award for bagging the most hits in the season, 25.

Riverview came from behind, 4-3, in the sixth inning by plating two runs on a single to right field by Wilshaw, and added another in the seventh for insurance.

Huddleston was the winning pitcher, with Agnew aiding in relief. Ron Burns was charged with the loss.

The Lawyers collected seven hits, but managed to score only in the first two innings. Riverview showed a six-hit attack. Errors again plagued the Lawyers in the playoff series. The squad committed eight in the final game.

Dave Chetwynd of Central Service won the league batting title with a .390 average, while Ralph Smith, also of Central Service, clouted the most home runs.

Burns, of the Lawyers, finished with the best pitching record—seven victories, one defeat. Bob Woods of the Lawyers and Tom Betz of the Dental Society were named best all - around players.

In the second part of a doubleheader, an All-Star team of 15-year-olds edged their 16-year-old counterparts, 3-2.

The younger "stars" broke a 1-1 tie after eight innings with two runs in the ninth. Their opponents also scored a run in the ninth.

Jim Hissom, 15, was accorded the mound victory, and Burns was the loser.

The younger players were limited to only three hits by Burns. The 16-year-old "stars" scored their two runs on four hits, but committed four errors.

Chetwynd showed two hits in four trips for the winners. Kraft, Agnew, Williams and Dash each hit safely for the losers.

Racing Fans Swing Eyes To Saratoga

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jaipur and Ridan and possibly Decidedly slug it out Saturday in the 1¼ miles of the $75,000-added Travers Stakes at Saratoga with a strong claim to the 3-year-old turf title awaiting the winner.

The highly regarded filly, Cicada, also is scheduled to start.

Jaipur, owned by George D. Widener and with Willie Shoemaker in the saddle, is the likely choice for America's oldest horse race off victories in the Belmont Stakes, Choice, Jersey Derby, Withers and Gotham.

Ridan, star of Mrs. Moody Jolley's stable, lost face when he bowed to the lightly regarded Black Sheep in the recent American Derby at Arlington Park. But the son of Nantallah, unbeaten in seven starts as a 2-year-old, never has been out of the money in 10 outings this year, if you don't count the Florida race in which he ran third and was disqualified.

Whether Kentucky Derby winner Decidedly will be in the race probably will be decided after a workout at Saratoga today. Other probables include Cyane, Prego and possibly Black Beard.

Trainer Casey Hayes said Sunday that C. T. Chenery's Cicada was trained for the race and will start. But she was a disappointment in last Saturday's $57,000 Alabama Stakes over the same track, running third behind E. Barry Ryan's Firm Policy and the lightly regarded Lincoln Center in the 1¼-mile race for 3-year-old fillies.

Eastern campaigned fillies ran one-two in the 1⅛ miles of the $61,800 Pucker Up Stakes for 3-year-old fillies at Arlington Park. Royal Patrice, the 2 to 1 choice from the Harbor View Farm, beat the Darby Dan Farm's Polylady by a length to earn $39,300. She was timed in 1:48 1-5.

Ohioan Wins Race

TORONTO (AP) — Bob Trouchvin's Trilby from Vermilion, Ohio, took honors with 63 points in Scythes Cup racing during the weekend on Lake Ontario.

'Finger Slide' Works For Robinson Of Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — Frank Robinson of the Cincinnati Reds has developed a "finger slide" for use at home plate.

And it's working well, he says.

"I slide on my side toward the plate, then away from it so just my fingers touch it. They make a small target for the catcher," the big rightfielder explained.

Robinson, the League's 1961 slugging champion, said he decided on the finger slide because the toe, foot and sometimes the legs in a hook slide offered too great a target.

West Virginia All-Stars Top Ohioans 12-6

By The Associated Press

The West Virginia All - Stars lived up to their favorite billing Saturday night by whipping the Eastern Ohio All-Stars, 12-6, before more than 10,000 at Wheeling.

Weirton's Bill Tucker and Bill Thompson supplied all the offensive fireworks for the West Virginians.

Tucker, named most valuable player on his team, scored the first touchdown on a 3 - yard plunge in the second quarter and then hit Thompson with a 21-yard pass for a TD in the third quarter.

The Ohioans scored in the fourth period, climaxing an 81-yard drive with a 15-yard scoring pass from Mike Herrick of Mingo to Chuck Waligura of Wayne Township. Herrick was named most valuable player for the Ohio team.

West Virginia dominated the statistics, holding a 14-9 edge in first downs and a 220-163 bulge in total yardage. Tucker gained 121 of the West Virginianas' 199 yards on the ground. Despite the loss, Ohio holds an 11-9 edge in the series.

The all-star fever hit first at Parkersburg, where the North blanked the South 12-0 Friday in the L-K Bowl Game.

It spreads next to Williamson, where players from Easter Kentucky and the southwestern part of the Mountain State square off Friday in the 6th Kiwanis Senior Bowl game.

The game will mark the third such all-star contest in the state this month.

National Bowling Unit Seeking 2 More Teams

The National Bowling League, seeking two teams for winter action, will hold its annual organization meeting Aug. 20 at 7 p. m. at the Friendly Bowling Center.

Claude W. Ruckman, secretary-treasurer, said two teams are needed to fill out a 10-team league. Tentative opening night is Aug. 27 at 6:45 and bowling will continue each Monday night in the winter season.

Anyone wishing to enter a team in the early league is to send a representative to the meeting next Monday night, or contact Ruckman. The first two persons to contact Ruckman will be admitted to the league, the secretary - treasurer said.

All team captains or their representatives are also to attend the initial meeting.

Riverview Golf Loop Lists Weekend Cards

A foursome of Tom Lynch, Mike Cebula, Chuck Rogers and John Weir won Sunday's golfing feature of the Riverview Golf League with a four-under-par 68 at Negley, and Lynch was medalist with 74.

Saturday's victorious team of Chuck Heasley, Paul Standley, Jack Woomer and Norm Cunningham fired a one-under-par 71. Jack Rogers was medalist with 76.

When Lehigh meets Lafayette on the football field next Nov. 17, it will be the 98th game between the two old rivals since 1884.

'Finger Slide' Works For Robinson Of Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — Frank Robinson of the Cincinnati Reds has developed a "finger slide" for use at home plate.

And it's working well, he says.

"I slide on my side toward the plate, then away from it so just my fingers touch it. They make a small target for the catcher," the big rightfielder explained.

Robinson, the League's 1961 slugging champion, said he decided on the finger slide because the toe, foot and sometimes the legs in a hook slide offered too great a target.

Racing Fans Swing Eyes To Saratoga

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jaipur and Ridan and possibly Decidedly slug it out Saturday in the 1¼ miles of the $75,000-added Travers Stakes at Saratoga with a strong claim to the 3-year-old turf title awaiting the winner.

The highly regarded filly, Cicada, also is scheduled to start.

Jaipur, owned by George D. Widener and with Willie Shoemaker in the saddle, is the likely choice for America's oldest horse race off victories in the Belmont Stakes, Choice, Jersey Derby, Withers and Gotham.

Ridan, star of Mrs. Moody Jolley's stable, lost face when he bowed to the lightly regarded Black Sheep in the recent American Derby at Arlington Park. But the son of Nantallah, unbeaten in seven starts as a 2-year-old, never has been out of the money in 10 outings this year, if you don't count the Florida race in which he ran third and was disqualified.

Whether Kentucky Derby winner Decidedly will be in the race probably will be decided after a workout at Saratoga today. Other probables include Cyane, Prego and possibly Black Beard.

Trainer Casey Hayes said Sunday that C. T. Chenery's Cicada was trained for the race and will start. But she was a disappointment in last Saturday's $57,000 Alabama Stakes over the same track, running third behind E. Barry Ryan's Firm Policy and the lightly regarded Lincoln Center in the 1¼-mile race for 3-year-old fillies.

Eastern campaigned fillies ran one-two in the 1⅛ miles of the $61,800 Pucker Up Stakes for 3-year-old fillies at Arlington Park. Royal Patrice, the 2 to 1 choice from the Harbor View Farm, beat the Darby Dan Farm's Polylady by a length to earn $39,300. She was timed in 1:48 1-5.

West Virginia All-Stars Top Ohioans 12-6

By The Associated Press

The West Virginia All - Stars lived up to their favorite billing Saturday night by whipping the Eastern Ohio All-Stars, 12-6, before more than 10,000 at Wheeling.

Weirton's Bill Tucker and Bill Thompson supplied all the offensive fireworks for the West Virginians.

Tucker, named most valuable player on his team, scored the first touchdown on a 3 - yard plunge in the second quarter and then hit Thompson with a 21-yard pass for a TD in the third quarter.

The Ohioans scored in the fourth period, climaxing an 81-yard drive with a 15-yard scoring pass from Mike Herrick of Mingo to Chuck Waligura of Wayne Township. Herrick was named most valuable player for the Ohio team.

West Virginia dominated the statistics, holding a 14-9 edge in first downs and a 220-163 bulge in total yardage. Tucker gained 121 of the West Virginianas' 199 yards on the ground. Despite the loss, Ohio holds an 11-9 edge in the series.

The all-star fever hit first at Parkersburg, where the North blanked the South 12-0 Friday in the L-K Bowl Game.

It spreads next to Williamson, where players from Easter Kentucky and the southwestern part of the Mountain State square off Friday in the 6th Kiwanis Senior Bowl game.

The game will mark the third such all-star contest in the state this month.

Junior Editors Quiz on MONEY

QUESTION: How does new money get into circulation?

ANSWER: When badly worn bills (A) show up at banks, they are withdawn from circulation and sent to the nearest Federal Reserve Bank. This bank will then slice unusable bills lengthwise (B) and send them (each half separately) to the Treasury Department in Washington. There, (C), the scraps are burned. New money is being constantly printed by the government (D) and is sent to the banks in exchange for the old bills they have turned in. The new money is then given out in the regular business of the bank (E) and so goes into circulation. In addition, extra new money is always being held in reserve to be circulated as needed by the Federal Reserve System. As the population increases, more money is needed and the Federal Reserve System takes care of this, too, by distributing new bills to the banks. Defaced coins are also withdrawn and sent to the United States Mint, where they are melted down, new coins being sent out to replace the old. A bright new coin just from the mint is said to be in "mint condition."

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Fortunately for coin collectors, enough old coins circulate to make coin collecting a fascinating and profitable hobby. Watch your change for Lincoln pennies of 1914 with "D" under date, 1909 with "SVBD", 1915, 1909 and 1931 with "S" under the date. Check a coin catalogue for other valuable coins.

Decision On Defectors

Kennedy Campaign May Need Party 'Blind Spots'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy may have to develop some political blind spots in campaigning for Democratic candidates for the Senate and House.

While the President can go all-out in praise of the record of party office holders in several states, he will have to overlook some glaring defections from his New Frontiers program in urging the election of others.

In any widespread campaigning Kennedy may find himself calling for the defeat of Republicans who at times have given him vital support on issues he considers important to the success of his administration.

As a case in point, Kennedy will have to gloss over the solid backing given to him in international crises when he campaigns against Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen in Illinois.

Dirksen has fought many of Kennedy's domestic proposals. As an opposition leader in Congress he has criticized Kennedy's handling of international as well as domestic problems.

But when the chips were down in the Berlin crisis and the sending of troops to South Viet Nam, Dirksen and his House counterpart, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, plugged the Republican guns that might have roared in protest.

Similarly, Kennedy may have some mental reservations in urging the replacement of Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits in New York who helped frame the compromise version of the administration's bill for Social Security financing of health care for the elderly.

Kennedy has predicted that medicare will be a major issue in the campaign. If so, can he condemn the record of Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the deputy Senate Republican leader? Kuchel worked and voted for the compromise bill.

Kennedy will have to close his eyes to individual opposition to some of his major proposals in any campaigning he does for a number of Democrats up for re-election.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., who got Kennedy's personal help in the primary, still is explaining his vote against the administration's health care bill. However, Smathers is not likely to need any presidential aid in the general election.

The President already has been to Arizona to endorse the re-election bid of Democratic Sen. Carl Hayden. That was before Hayden voted to kill the health care bill.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., has led the fight against a communications satellite bill the President has put on his must list for passage by this Congress.

The guessing is that Kennedy will decide to take the bad with the good and plug with varying degrees of enthusiasm for the election of Democrats wherever he may be campaigning.

Ohioan Charges Hoffa Seeks New Contract Change

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Cincinnati labor leader says Teamsters President James Hoffa is seeking a nationwide contract "that will allow no change in bargaining agents without a national union election."

James T. Luken, who led the Cincinnati local out of the Teamsters, told members of the Voice of the Teamsters Democratic Organizing Committee Sunday that they may be facing their last chance to withdraw from the Teamsters.

Voice is trying to supplant portions of Teamsters Locals 107, 312, 331 and 470 in contracts with Philadelphia area truckers.

Luken, head of the 2,400-member Milk and Ice Cream Drivers and Dairy Employes of Greater Cincinnati, was met by egg-throwing hecklers when he last appeared here in January.

With 20 "security" men roaming the aisles and flanking the stage Sunday, there was no repitition of the incident.

Man In Murder Case Identified As Fugitive

BEAVER — Sheriff John M. Hineman Jr. said over the weekend that Carroll Williams, charged with the murder of Mrs. Lauretta D. Schultz, 23-year-old divorcee, now is wanted in California for escaping from an institutional farm.

The sheriff said Los Angeles County authorities have forwarded a warrant and Williams, formerly of Monaca, waived extradition.

Williams is scheduled to have a hearing Friday on habeas corpus proceedings in the murder charge.

Three Sailors Booked After Snafued Holdup

NEW YORK (AP)—Three sailors—from Ohio, Kentucky and the Bronx—face arraignment on attempted robbery and other charges stemming from the snafued holdup of an Indian cab driver who went on the warpath with a gun and got arrested himself.

The cabbie, Larry Thundercloud Osmond, 55, who identified himself as a member of the Blackfoot Tribe, shot and slightly wounded one of the sailors during the holdup attempt, and later was booked on a charge of violation of the antiweapons law when police discovered he didn't have a gun permit.

He also faces arraignment in Bronx Magistrates Court.

The sailors, all from the destroyer O'Hale based at Newport, R. I., were identified as Raymond Noble, 21, of Garrison, Ky., who suffered a grazing bullet wound of the chest; Robert Tracy, 19, of the Bronx, and Thomas M. Arthur, 20 of Columbus, Ohio.

According to police, this is what happened after the three Navy men hailed Osmond's cab in midtown Manhattan and he drove them to the Riverdale section of the Bronx early Sunday:

After telling Osmond to stop, Tracy threw a stranglehold around the cabbie's neck and took $8 from him while the other two sailors got out of the taxi.

Osmond broke loose, jumped from the cab and opened fire with a .22 caliber revolver he had with him. His one shot grazed Noble, who ran yelling for help into a nearby apartment house where he persuaded a tenant to call police.

Osmond ran into another apartment and pounded on doors in a futile attempt to convince tenants he had been robbed. The other two sailors drove off in the cab, crashed into a parked car a shot distance away and fled on foot.

Osmond, remembering he didn't have a permit for his gun, dumped it at a construction site and walked back to his wrecked cab where police already were waiting.

At first he told officers that Noble had been shot mistakenly by one of his pals. Later he admitted he concocted that version and led police to the site where the gun was recovered.

Questioning of Noble led to the arrest of Tracy and Arthur. Besides all three being charged with attempted robbery, Noble and Arthur were booked on charges of elonious assault and Tracy on a charge of grand larceny.

500 Due At Cincinnati Water Seminar Event

CINCINNATI (AP) — The third seminar on biological problems in water pollution was to start today with an address by James M. Quigley, assistant secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Some 500 scientists and officials from more than 20 countries were expected for the week-long event to discuss the ways modern industrial civilization is affecting living things in the water and what can be done about it.

Your family will like this: marinate sliced bananas in orange juice and then spoon them into dessert dishes; add vanilla flavored custard pudding (from a mix if you like) and top with a little granted orange rind.

Kennedy Campaign May Need Party 'Blind Spots'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy may have to develop some political blind spots in campaigning for Democratic candidates for the Senate and House.

While the President can go all-out in praise of the record of party office holders in several states, he will have to overlook some glaring defections from his New Frontiers program in urging the election of others.

In any widespread campaigning Kennedy may find himself calling for the defeat of Republicans who at times have given him vital support on issues he considers important to the success of his administration.

As a case in point, Kennedy will have to gloss over the solid backing given to him in international crises when he campaigns against Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen in Illinois.

Dirksen has fought many of Kennedy's domestic proposals. As an opposition leader in Congress he has criticized Kennedy's handling of international as well as domestic problems.

But when the chips were down in the Berlin crisis and the sending of troops to South Viet Nam, Dirksen and his House counterpart, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, plugged the Republican guns that might have roared in protest.

Similarly, Kennedy may have some mental reservations in urging the replacement of Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits in New York who helped frame the compromise version of the administration's bill for Social Security financing of health care for the elderly.

Kennedy has predicted that medicare will be a major issue in the campaign. If so, can he condemn the record of Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the deputy Senate Republican leader? Kuchel worked and voted for the compromise bill.

Kennedy will have to close his eyes to individual opposition to some of his major proposals in any campaigning he does for a number of Democrats up for re-election.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., who got Kennedy's personal help in the primary, still is explaining his vote against the administration's health care bill. However, Smathers is not likely to need any presidential aid in the general election.

The President already has been to Arizona to endorse the re-election bid of Democratic Sen. Carl Hayden. That was before Hayden voted to kill the health care bill.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., has led the fight against a communications satellite bill the President has put on his must list for passage by this Congress.

The guessing is that Kennedy will decide to take the bad with the good and plug with varying degrees of enthusiasm for the election of Democrats wherever he may be campaigning.

Ohioan Charges Hoffa Seeks New Contract Change

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Cincinnati labor leader says Teamsters President James Hoffa is seeking a nationwide contract "that will allow no change in bargaining agents without a national union election."

James T. Luken, who led the Cincinnati local out of the Teamsters, told members of the Voice of the Teamsters Democratic Organizing Committee Sunday that they may be facing their last chance to withdraw from the Teamsters.

Voice is trying to supplant portions of Teamsters Locals 107, 312, 331 and 470 in contracts with Philadelphia area truckers.

Luken, head of the 2,400-member Milk and Ice Cream Drivers and Dairy Employes of Greater Cincinnati, was met by egg-throwing hecklers when he last appeared here in January.
